THE SERIES

• The Inaugural Dr. Pepper ACC Football Championship Game, will mark the 32nd football meeting between Virginia Tech and Florida State.

• The Seminoles hold a 20-10-1 advantage in the series, which began in 1955. FSU has won the last 11 meetings, including a 30-17 win in the 2002 Toyota Gator Bowl, which was held in the same stadium as Saturday's game.

• The two met in the 2000 Nokia Sugar Bowl in New Orleans, with the Seminoles taking a 46-29 win that decided the national championship.

• Including Saturday's game, the last four meetings have come at neutral sites.

• Prior to their meeting in the 2000 Sugar Bowl, Tech and FSU had not met since the 1991 season when the No. 1-ranked Seminoles defeated the Hokies, 33-20, in a neutral-site game at Orlando.

• Tech's last victory in the series came during the 1975 season when the Hokies posted a 13-10 win at Lane Stadium.

• Tech is 5-5-1 versus Florida State in Blacksburg, 5-12 against FSU at Doak Campbell Stadium and 0-3 at neutral sites.

• Tech's Frank Beamer is 0-6 as a head coach in games against Florida State. Florida State's Bobby Bowden is 14-0 versus Tech as a head coach, including three wins while at West Virginia.

THE GAME ON TV

• The Florida State-Virginia Tech game will be televised nationally by ABC Sports. Brent Musberger will handle the play-by-play with Gary Danielson serving as the color analyst and Jake Arute providing sideline commentary.

• Virginia Tech is 10-13 in games televised by ABC, including 1-0 this year.

STAYING POWER

• Only three teams have been ranked in the AP Top 10 in every poll, each week, this entire season: USC, Texas, and Tech. Every other preseason Top 10 team fell out all-together or dropped out, and then climbed back into the Top 10.

AT ALLTEL STADIUM

• Virginia Tech is 1-2 all-time at Alltel Stadium, beating Clemson in the 2001 Gator Bowl and falling to North Carolina, 42-3, in the 1997 Gator Bowl, and to Florida State 30-17 in the 2002 Gator Bowl.

• FSU is 4-0 all-time in Alltel Stadium, recording wins over Duke (51-23) in 1999, BYU (29-3) in 2000, Virginia Tech (30-17) in 2002 and West Virginia (30-18) last year.

COUNTDOWN TO KICKOFF

10 Virginia Tech has allowed a combined total of 10 points during the first quarter of play this season.
9 The nine combined first-half points in the Tech-UNC game were the fewest total points in the first half of a Tech game this season.
8 Redshirt freshman tailback Branden Ore had eight broken tackles during Tech's win over North Carolina.
7 Virginia Tech has posted 10 or more wins in seven of its last 11 seasons.
6 Tech's tailbacks have averaged 6.9 yards per carry during the Hokies' last two games.
5 Five Tech players have two interceptions or more this season.
4 Virginia Tech will be making its fourth appearance at Alltel Stadium when it faces Florida State in the Dr. Pepper ACC Championship Game.
3 Virginia Tech has allowed just three touchdowns during the first half of its last six games.
2 The Hokies have produced two 100-yard rushers in each of their last two games.
1 Tech ranks first in the nation in total defense, scoring defense and pass defense.

COACH FRANK BEAMER

• Frank Beamer (Virginia Tech '69), whose Tech teams have posted a 121-38 record over the past 12 seasons and appeared in bowl games each year during that span, is in his 19th year as the head football coach at Virginia Tech. Beamer has guided the Hokies to a 145-78-2 record.

He became Tech's winningest football coach in 1997 when the Hokies defeated Arkansas State, 50-0.

Under Beamer, Tech football has enjoyed unprecedented success with 12 consecutive bowl appearances, an ACC title, three BIG EAST Conference titles and a trip to the national championship game. Tech won the BIG EAST title in 1999 and 1995 and shared it in '96.

Beamer was voted BIG EAST Coach of the Year by the league's coaches each of those seasons and was tabbed the ACC Coach of the Year last season.

In 1997, he was inducted into The Virginia Tech Sports Hall of Fame, and following the 1999 season, he earned eight national coach of the year honors.

Beamer's Hokies have earned the highest national rankings in the program's history, earning a top 10 ranking in the AP poll at some point during each of the past seven years, inlcuding this year. During one stretch, Tech was ranked in 84 consecutive AP polls.

Last year, Tech went a surprising 10-3 in a season highlighted by an eight-game winning streak that led to Tech's ACC championship and a trip to the Nokia Sugar Bowl. During the 2000 season, the Hokies posted an 11-1 record that included a 41-20 win over Clemson in the Gator Bowl.

In 1999, Tech marched to an 11-0 regular-season mark before losing a hard-fought 46-29 game to Florida State for the national title in the Sugar Bowl. The Hokies ended the '99 season ranked No. 2 by AP.

Another highlight came when Tech beat Texas, 28-10, in the 1995 Sugar Bowl and finished 10-2. The bowl streak started in '93 when Tech beat Indiana in the Independence Bowl to cap a 9-3 season.

Beamer returned to his alma mater in December 1986 after a six-year stint as the head coach at Murray State University, where he compiled a 42-23-2 mark.

During his undergraduate days at Tech, Beamer started three years as a cornerback and played on the Hokies' 1966 and 1968 Liberty Bowl teams. The 59-year-old Hillsville, Va., native began his collegiate coaching career as a graduate assistant at Maryland in 1972. He held assistant coaching positions at The Citadel and Murray State before being named MSU's head coach in 1981.

Beamer is married to the former Cheryl Oakley of Richmond, Va. They have two children, Shane, a former member of his dad's football team at Tech and now an assistant at Mississippi State; and daughter Casey, a 2003 graduate of Tech. He had his No. 25 jersey retired by Tech in a pregame ceremony before the Marshall game in 2002.

STABILITY AT THE TOP

• Frank Beamer, the first Tech alumnus to guide Virginia Tech's football program since the 1940s, has coached and won more football games at Tech than any other coach.

• Only three of the 119 active Division I-A head football coaches have been at their current school longer than Beamer. Those coaches are: Joe Paterno (39 yrs., Penn State); Bobby Bowden (29 yrs., Florida State); and Fisher DeBerry (21 yrs., Air Force).

• Prior to Beamer, no other grid coach in Virginia Tech history had served more than 10 seasons as head coach.

The Opposing Coach

FSU COACH BOBBY BOWDEN

• Bobby Bowden (Howard '53) is in his 30th season as the head football coach at the Florida State University, where his current record is 285-74-4.

• Bowden is the all-time winningest coach in major college history with 358 wins, posting a 358-106-4 career record.

• He began his career as the head coach of Samford University from 1959-62, compiling a 31-6 record. From there, he coached at FSU from 1963-65 as the wide receivers coach before taking the offensive coordinator job at West Virginia University from 1966-69. He became the head coach at WVU in 1970 and held that position until 1975, where he went 42-26 with two bowl appearances.

• In 1976, Bowden accepted the job in Tallahassee and has since taken his Seminoles to 26 bowl games, including one following each of the last 23 seasons and has won two national titles.

Twelve Bowls in a Row

• With Nebraska and Kansas State failing to make bowls in 2004, Virginia Tech is now one of only five teams to go to 12 bowls in the last 12 seasons. The other four teams are Florida, Florida State, Michigan and Tennessee.

Rushing = Outcome?

• Under head coach Frank Beamer (225 games), the Hokies are 128-27-2 when outrushing their opponents, 16-51 when being outrushed and 1-0 when the rushing total is even.

• In Tech's current 12-year bowl run (since 1993), Tech is 108-12 when outrushing its opponents, 12-26 when being outrushed and 1-0 when the rushing total is even.

• In its current 12-year bowl run (since 1993), Tech is 81-6 when rushing for 200 yards or more, including 7-0 this year.

• Since 1999, the Hokies are 63-5 when outrushing their opponent and 5-13 when being outrushed.

SCORING STREAK

• Tech has scored in a school record 133 straight football games, beginning with a 13-7 win over the University of Miami on Sept. 23, 1995.

• The streak began after a 16-0 loss to Cincinnati at Lane Stadium in 1995.

• The previous school record was 66 straight games, which started in 1970 and ran into the 1976 season.

• During its current streak, Tech has scored 13 or more points in all but four games — UNC (1998 Gator Bowl, L, 42-3, at Pittsburgh (2001, L, 38-7), at West Virginia (2003, L, 28-7) and Miami (2005, L, 27-7).

TECH IN THE POLLS

• The Hokies posted their highest-ever football rankings during the 1999 and 2000 seasons. Tech finished the '99 season rated No. 2 by AP and No. 3 by the coaches and climbed as high as No. 2 in 2000.

• Tech has been ranked a total of 173 voting periods by the AP since the beginning of the 1993 season, including a streak of 84 straight polls from 1998-2003.

• When Frank Beamer took over in 1987, Tech had been ranked a total of 12 weeks during the first 49 years of the AP poll. The Hokies have been ranked in 118 of the last 133 AP polls.

• Tech has an all-time record of 32-67-1 against teams ranked in the AP poll. Since the start of the 1995 season, the Hokies are 22-13 against ranked teams.

• The No. 7 ranking in the Coaches' Poll was the highest preseason ranking in either major poll for the Hokies. Tech was ranked No. 8 in the preseason AP Poll. The previous high was No. 9 in both polls prior to the 2001 season, as well as No. 9 in the AP poll to start the 2003 campaign.

TECH AT NEUTRAL SITES

• Virginia Tech has a 143-118-19 record in football games played at neutral sites.

• Tech is 6-9 in neutral site games during Coach Frank Beamer's 18 seasons after last season's 16-13 loss to Auburn in the Sugar Bowl.

• Besides bowl games, where the Hokies are 5-7, Tech's other three neutral site games under Beamer have been regular-season contests — a 33-20 loss to Florida State at Orlando, Fla., in 1991, a 38-16 win over Temple at RFK Stadium in Washington, D.C., during the 1995 season and a 24-13 loss to No. 1 USC last year at FedEx Field in Landover, Md., to open the season.

NIGHT GAMES

• Since 1946, Virginia Tech football teams have a 72-56-1 record in night games, including a 39-23-1 record under Coach Frank Beamer.

• The Hokies have won 31 of their last 46 night games and are 4-1 in night games this season.

What's a Hokie?

That's the most often-asked question regardling Virginia Tech athletics. The answer leads all the way back to 1896 when Virginia Agricultural and Mechanical College changed its name to Virginia Polytechnic Institute.

With the change came the necessity for writing a new cheer and a contest for such a purpose was held by the student body. Senior O.M. Stull won first prize for his "Old Hokie" yell which still is used today.

Later, when asked if "Hokie" had any special meaning, Stull explained the words he used had no hidden or symbolic meaning, but had been thought up in an effort to get attention. Hokie soon became a nickname for all Tech teams and for those people loyal to Tech athletics.

Following is the "Old Hokie" yell in its original form:

Hoki, Hoki, Hoki Hy!
Tech! Tech! V.P.I.!
Sola-Rex Sola-Rah
Polytech-Vir-gin-i-a!!
Rae, Ri, V.P.I.

Just Virginia Tech, Please

While the full name of the school is Virginia Polytechnic Institute and State University, the school is commonly referred to as "Virginia Tech."

Founded in 1872, as Virginia Agricultural and Mechanical College, the university changed its named to Virginia Polytechnic Institute in 1896.

Fans of the athletic department, as well as media covering the Hokies, shortened the name to VPI, but it eventually became Virginia Tech.

The "State University" was added in 1970 to bring the official title to what it is today.

Those covering Hokie athletics are asked to refer to the university as simply "Virginia Tech."

Virginia Tech University, VPI and SU, VPI&SU, VT or VA Tech are not recognized names and should not be used.

MORE ON THE TECH-FSU SERIES

• Virginia Tech is Florida State's oldest out-of-state rival, having first met in 1955. The Hokies and 'Noles have met 31 times before with FSU holding a 20-10-1 lead in the series. The Tech series is the third-longest in FSU history behind Florida (50 times) and Miami (49 times).

• The series has been a close one in the past, with 21 of the 31 contests being decided by 14 points or less. Thirteen games have been decided by 10 or fewer.

• But there have been some lopsided games in the series, too. Tech's largest margin of victory was a 56-21 win at Tallahassee in 1974, while FSU's was a 41-7 victory at Blacksburg in 1989.

• The series also has produced some of the biggest plays in both schools' history. Larry Key's 97-yard run against the Hokies in 1976 still stands as both the longest run in FSU history and the longest run given up by Tech.

• Jimmy Jordan's 96-yard pass to Kurt Unglaub in the 1976 game is the second-longest pass in FSU history and the second-longest pass play Tech has ever given up.

• The longest field goal in Virginia Tech history was kicked against FSU. Wayne Latimer booted a 61-yarder against the 'Noles in the 1975 game.

• Leon Bright's 100-yard kickoff return against the Hokies in 1974 still stands in a tie as the longest ever by a Tech opponent.

SUNSHINE STATE FACTS

• The Hokies have played 61 football games against schools from the state of Florida, posting a 22-38-1 record. The Hokies are 10-20-1 against Florida State, 7-16 against the University of Miami, 2-0 against both UCF and Tampa, 1-0 against Florida A&M and are 0-2 all-time against the Gators of Florida.

• In games played in the Sunshine State, Tech is 12-27. The Hokies are 2-0 at Tampa, 5-12 at Tallahassee, 3-10 at Miami (3-9 against the University of Miami; 0-1 in the Orange Bowl), 1-2 in Jacksonville, 0-2 at Gainesvile (0-1 vs. the University of Florida; 0-1 in the Gator Bowl) and 1-1 at Orlando (1-0 vs. UCF; 0-1 vs. FSU).

Last Meeting: Seminoles Down Hokies in Gator Bowl

No. 15 Virginia Tech	17
No. 24 Florida State	30

Alltel Stadium • Jacksonville, Fla.
Jan. 1, 2002 • Attendance: 72,202

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. — Despite 158 yards receiving from André Davis in the final game of his career, Virginia Tech couldn't hold off the big-play capabilities of Florida State, falling to the Seminoles, 30-17, in front of 72,202 fans at the 57th annual Gator Bowl on New Year's Day.

In a game eerily similar to the 1999 Sugar Bowl game in which the Hokies and Seminoles battled for the national championship, Tech led after three quarters. A 55-yard touchdown pass from Tech quarterback Grant Noel to Davis with 40 seconds left in the third quarter gave the Hokies a 17-13 lead.

But then the big plays by FSU killed Tech. On the first play of the fourth quarter, FSU quarterback Chris Rix found Javon Walker on a 77-yard scoring play that gave the Seminoles a 20-17 lead.

The Hokies drove to the Seminole 32 on their next possession, but tailback Kevin Jones was stopped on fourth-and-1, giving FSU the ball on downs. On the next play, Rix hit Walker again, this time for 50 yards to the Tech 18. That led to a 35-yard field goal by Xavier Beitia with 10:13 left in the game that gave the Seminoles a 23-17 lead.

The Seminoles put the game away late in the fourth quarter. A 23-yard touchdown pass from Rix to Walker accounted for the final margin.

Rix threw for 326 yards and two touchdowns, while Walker caught four passes for 195 yards — a new Gator Bowl record — and two touchdowns.

Noel completed 15-of-27 for 269 yards for Tech. Davis was the Hokies' MVP in the game, catching five passes for 158 yards and a score.

The loss marked the end of the careers of 22 Tech seniors. That senior class went down as the winningest class in school history at the time with a 39-9 record.

Game 1: Hokies Hold On For ACC Road Win

No. 8 Virginia Tech	20
North Carolina State	16

Carter-Finley Stadium • Raleigh, N.C.
Sept. 4, 2005 • Attendance: 57,100

RALEIGH, N.C. — Virginia Tech avenged its only ACC loss of 2004 by opening its 2005 season with a hard-earned 20-16 victory over North Carolina State at Carter-Finley Stadium.

The Hokies, whose only league loss on the way to an ACC Championship last year was a 17-16 setback to the Wolfpack, picked up where they left off a year ago when they won four conference games in the final quarter. This time, a 19-yard touchdown pass from quarterback Marcus Vick to junior receiver David Clowney with 12:24 left proved to be the difference.

Like most of Tech's games last year, however, the outcome was in doubt until the final seconds. Tech junior rover Aaron Rouse sealed the win with an interception at the Hokies' 6-yard line as time expired. The pick capped a big night for Rouse who contributed eight tackles, two interceptions and forced a fumble.

Vick, making his starting debut, led the Hokies on scoring drives of 80 and 88 yards during the game, but overall, Tech was held to 232 yards by the Wolfpack's top-rated defensive unit. State, on the other hand, was able to amass 438 yards, but after marching 83 yards for a touchdown on their first possession, the 'Pack never made it into the end zone again. Plagued by three turnovers and number of costly penalties, the home team had to settle for three field goals over the final three quarters.

Tech punter Nic Schmitt also played a huge role in the win, averaging 45.7 yards on six kicks. Schmitt kept the Wolfpack backed up, booming two kicks of over 50 yards and dropping two kicks inside the NCSU 5-yard line.

Game Notes

• Rover Aaron Rouse (r-Jr., Virginia Beach, Va.) had a hand in all three NC State turnovers, intercepting two passes and forcing a fumble. The interceptions were the first of the redshirt junior's Tech career and came in his first collegiate start at rover.

• NC State's 438 yards of total offense were the most against Tech in a season opener since the 1986 season when the University of Cincinnati piled up 508 yards against the Hokies in an opener at Lane Stadium.

• The game marked just the fifth time since the beginning of the 1999 season and the 16th time in Coach Frank Beamer's tenure that Tech has won a game when being out-rushed. NC State finished with 127 yards on the ground to the Hokies' 124.

Game 2: Record-Breaking Defensive Effort Keys Big Win

No. 8 Virginia Tech	45
Duke	0

Wallace Wade Stadium • Durham, N.C.
Sept. 10, 2005 • Attendance: 25,014

DURHAM, N.C. — Virginia Tech's defense smothered home-standing Duke as the Hokies registered their first-ever ACC shutout with a 45-0 victory at Wallace Wade Stadium.

Tech, which gave up over 400 yards of offense in its season-opening win at NC State, was totally focused against the Blue Devils.

The Hokies held Duke to 35 total yards, the fewest for a Tech foe in the modern era. The Blue Devils managed just five first downs in the contest, with none coming through the air.

Duke ran just two offensive plays in Tech territory, one of which resulted in a holding penalty by the home team.

The Hokies' offense missed out on a few opportunities, but overall was efficient under the direction of quarterback Marcus Vick, who tossed a personal-best three touchdown passes.

Young tailbacks George Bell and Branden Ore each rushed for a TD in their collegiate debuts. Tech finished with 182 yards through the air and 180 rushing.

Cornerback Roland Minor picked up Tech's first defensive score of the year when he picked off a pass and returned it 23 yards for a touchdown late in the first quarter.

End Darryl Tapp contributed two of the Hokies' five quarterback sacks.

Game Notes

• Virginia Tech held Duke to 13 yards rushing and 22 yards passing. The 35 yards of total offense were the fewest for a Tech opponent in the modern era (since 1950). The previous low mark was 63 yards by UAB in 1999.

• Tech's 45 points against the Blue Devils represent the highest scoring total for the Hokies in an Atlantic Coast Conference road game.

• For just the ninth time since 1950, Tech held a team without a passing first down. All five of Duke's first downs in the game came on rushing plays. The fewest first downs by a Tech opponent since 1950 is four by Penn in 1955.

• Tight end Jeff King (r-Sr., Pulaski, Va.) caught a career-best five passes against the Blue Devils. His previous high was four catches versus Southern Cal last season.

Game 3: Defense Posts Another Shutout in Home Opener

Ohio	0
No. 4 Virginia Tech	45

Lane Stadium/Worsham Field • Blacksburg, Va.
Sept. 17, 2005 • Attendance: 65,115

BLACKSBURG, Va. — Virginia Tech's defense turned in another strong showing, serving up its second-straight shutout, as the Hokies opened their home schedule with a 45-0 victory against Ohio University at Lane Stadium/Worsham Field.

Linebackers James Anderson and Vince Hall led the Tech defense, which limited the visiting Bobcats to 189 total yards for the afternoon. Anderson posted a team-leading 10 tackles, including a quarterback sack and two total tackles for loss. He also forced a fumble that set up a Tech touchdown. Hall added eight tackles to help limit Ohio to 87 yards on the ground.

The defense bought some time for the Tech offense, which started off slow before scoring two touchdowns in each of the last three quarters. Senior tailback Cedric Humes rushed for a pair of TDs, including one on a 33-yard burst in the fourth quarter. Quarterback Marcus Vick passed for two touchdowns and ran for another, accounting for 238 yards of total offense. Redshirt freshman quarterback Cory Holt finished the game by directing the team on a season-long touchdown drive that covered 96 yards in eight plays.

Tech finished with a balanced attack that produced 257 yards through the air and 218 yards on the ground. Humes led the way rushing with 75 yards, while his running mate at tailback, Mike Imoh, added 46 yards and surpassed the 1,000-yard mark for career rushing.

Game Notes

• For the second-straight week, Tech posted a 45-0 victory. It marked the first time since 1932 that the Hokies had registered back-to-back shutouts by the identical score. That year, Tech defeated William & Mary and Kentucky in consecutive games by the score of 7-0. Tech won at Duke 45-0 prior to the Ohio game.

• The back-to-back shutouts are just the second under Coach Frank Beamer. Tech blanked Western Michigan and Rutgers on consecutive weeks in 2001.

• After giving up just 35 yards of total offense the week before to Duke, the Hokies limited Ohio to 189 yards. The combined 224 yards are the fewest allowed in a two-game span under head coach Frank Beamer and the fewest since 1955 when Tech held Penn and William & Mary to a combined 192 yards.

Game 4: Hokies Sting No. 15 Georgia Tech

No. 15 Georgia Tech	7
No. 4 Virginia Tech	51

Lane Stadium/Worsham Field • Blacksburg, Va.
Sept. 24, 2005 • Attendance: 65,115

BLACKSBURG, Va. — The No. 4-ranked Hokies scored three non-offensive touchdowns on the way to a stunning 51-7 victory over No. 15 Georgia Tech at Lane Stadium/Worsham Field.

One of the non-offense scores — a blocked field goal by tight end Jeff King that was picked up and returned for a TD by sophomore D.J. Parker — proved to be the key play of the game for the Hokies. After Virginia Tech took a 7-0 lead on a Marcus Vick pass to King, the Yellow Jackets marched to the Hokies' 18 before lining up for the field goal attempt.

Following the block, Virginia Tech jumped to a 24-0 halftime lead and then added 24 more points in the third quarter. The Hokies scored 17 points within a 44-second span during that third-quarter outburst.

Georgia Tech managed just six first downs and 217 yards of total offense.

Game Notes

• Virginia Tech's 51 points against No. 15 Georgia Tech were the second-most ever for the Hokies against a Top 25 team. Their highest scoring total came in a 62-0 decision over No. 16 Syracuse at Lane Stadium in 1999.

• Three Tech players — D.J. Parker (So., Hampton, Va.), Xavier Adibi (r-So., Hampton, Va.) and Chris Ellis (r-So., Hampton, Va.) — scored their first collegiate touchdowns during the game.

• The last time the Hokies scored three non-offensive touchdowns in a game was against Connecticut in 2003. Tech scored on an interception, a blocked punt and a kickoff return in that game.

• Georgia Tech's third-quarter touchdown was the first against the Hokies since NC State scored a TD on the opening drive of the opening game of the season.

Game 5: Vick Near-Perfect in Tech's Big Road Win

No. 3 Virginia Tech	34
West Virginia	17

Mountaineer Field at Milan Puskar Stadium • Morgantown, W.Va.
Oct. 1, 2005 • Attendance: 60,193

MORGANTOWN, W.Va. — Marcus Vick passed for two touchdowns and ran for another as Virginia Tech won its final scheduled game against out-of-state rival West Virginia, 34-17, in a physical, hard-fought battle at Milan Puskar Stadium.

Vick put Tech ahead with a 10-yard touchdown run in the first quarter, and kept the Hokies there with TD passes to tight end Jeff King and flanker Eddie Royal in the second quarters. The Mountaineers kept the pressure on with a pair of touchdowns in the first half, but the Hokies controlled the ball, and the game, in the second half.

After giving up two touchdowns and 155 total yards in the first half, the Tech defense held the Mountaineers to three points, four first downs and a total of 98 offensive yards during the final two quarters. Tech's offense, meanwhile, controlled the clock for 20:35 of the final 30 minutes, capping the win with a 10-play, 80-yard drive that ended with a Cedric Humes touchdown run.

Tech took advantage of two costly WVU fumbles, turning both into touchdowns. Vick finished with 251 yards of total offense, including 74 yards on the ground, while place-kicker Brandon Pace added a pair of field goals.

Game Notes

• Marcus Vick (Newport News, Va.) completed 15 of 17 passes against the Mountaineers for an 88.2 completion percentage. His completion percentage was an all-time WVU opponent record. The previous high against WVU was 18-24 (75.0) by Steve Joachim of Temple in 1974.

• Tight end Jeff King (Pulaski, Va.) caught a touchdown pass for the fourth-straight game, becoming the first Tech player during the modern era (since 1950) to accomplish the feat in a single season. The last Tech player to catch a touchdown pass in four straight games over a two-season span was wide receiver André Davis, who caught scoring passes in the last three games of the 1999 season and the opening game of 2000. The last player with a longer streak is Sidney Snell who had TD catches in six consecutive games over two seasons in 1979-80.

• West Virginia became the first team to score more than one touchdown on the Hokies since North Carolina scored two on Nov. 6, 2004.

Game 6: Tech Overcomes Slow Start for 41-14 Win

Marshall	14
No. 3 Virginia Tech	41

Lane Stadium/Worsham Field • Blacksburg, Va.
Oct. 8, 2005 • Attendance: 65,115

BLACKSBURG, Va. — Virginia Tech shook off a sluggish start and used a dominating third quarter to post a 41-14 Homecoming victory against Marshall University.

The third-ranked Hokies suffered a blow in the second quarter when starting tailback Cedric Humes suffered a broken right arm. With co-starter Mike Imoh sitting out with a sore ankle, Tech turned to redshirt freshman Branden Ore, whose 14-yard touchdown run at the 5:09 mark of the second quarter broke a 7-7 tie.

Ore and the Hokies wasted little time in taking control of the game in the second half, scoring 17 points in a span of two-and-a-half minutes during the third quarter. The key play came when defensive end Chris Ellis forced a fumble that was picked off in mid-air by linebacker Vince Hall and returned for a touchdown. Quarterback Marcus Vick added a touchdown pass and Brandon Pace kicked two field goals as Tech finished the quarter with a 34-7 advantage.

Ore, who rushed for 107 yards during the third quarter, finished the game with 146 yards rushing on 19 carries. Tech's defense, which gave up 131 yards rushing in the first half, held the Thundering Herd to just 33 yards on the ground in the second half, including minus-2 yards in the third period.

Game Notes

• Redshirt freshman Branden Ore (Chesapeake, Va.) rushed for a career-high 146 yards, becoming the first Tech player to rush for 100 yards or more in 2005. Ore's rushing total was the highest for a Tech freshman (true or redshirt) since Kevin Jones ran for 155 yards on 21 carries at Temple in 2001.

• Linebacker Vince Hall (r-So., Chesapeake, Va.) scored his first collegiate touchdown during the third quarter of the game when he grabbed a fumble and rambled 15 yards for a touchdown. He became the 66th different player to score a TD on defense or special teams during Coach Frank Beamer's tenure at Tech. It was the 22nd fumble returned for a touchdown under Beamer and the 63rd defensive TD.

• When Marshall intercepted a Marcus Vick (r-Jr., Newport News, Va.) pass during the second quarter, it marked just the second turnover of the season for Tech. Neither Tech turnover has resulted in points for the opposition.

Game 7: Tech Defense Picks Up the Slack in ACC Road Win

No. 3 Virginia Tech	28
Maryland	9

Byrd Stadium • College Park, Md.
Oct. 20, 2005 • Attendance: 54,838

COLLEGE PARK, Md. — Virginia Tech overcame four turnovers and some uncharacteristic penalties to post a 28-9 Atlantic Coast Conference road victory against the University of Maryland.

Tech scored on just one of three first-half trips inside the red-zone during the Thursday night ESPN contest, but still managed a 7-3 advantage at the intermission.

In the second half, the Hokies' offense finally got on track, churning out 214 yards and three touchdowns on the ground.

While the offense was trying to find its rhythm, the Tech defense held the Terrapins to just three points through the first 57 minutes of the game.

The Hokies registered 12 quarterback hurries, four sacks and a pair of interceptions on the way to limiting the Terps to 254 total yards of offense.

Quarterback Marcus Vick was picked off three times during the game, but more than compensated for it by accounting for 344 yards of offense. Vick rushed for 133 yards and a touchdown, while adding 211 passing yards.

Tailback Mike Imoh contributed two touchdown runs in the second half.

Game Notes

• When Virginia Tech failed to score in the opening quarter against Maryland, it marked the first time the Hokies had not scored in a quarter this season. Tech scored points in 24-straight quarters to start the season.

• After committing a combined total of two turnovers during its first six games of the season, the Hokies turned the ball over four times at Maryland. When Maryland recovered a Mike Imoh (Sr., Fairfax, Va.) fumble at its own 6-yard line, it marked Tech's first lost fumble of the season.

• Tech posted season highs for rushing yards and total offense during the game. The Hokies rushed for 286 yards and finished with 497 total yards. Tech averaged seven yards per play on offense.

• The Hokies seven penalties and 71 penalty yards were both season highs for Tech.

Game 8: Hokies Roll to Win Over No. 13 Boston College

No. 13 Boston College	10
No. 3 Virginia Tech	30

Lane Stadium/Worsham Field • Blacksburg, Va.
Oct. 27, 2005 • Attendance: 65,115

BLACKSBURG, Va. — Virginia Tech won the battle in the trenches on both sides of the ball to hand No. 13 Boston College a 30-10 loss in a Thursday night ESPN battle in Blacksburg.

Tech's defense held the top ranked offense in the Atlantic Coast Conference to 183 total yards, including just 27 yards on the ground. Meanwhile, the Hokies' offense piled up 492 total yards, grinding our 222 of those yards rushing against a BC defense that had allowed just 77.7 yards per game on the ground for the season.

Boston College held the Hokies to a pair of field goals in the first quarter and took a 7-6 lead early in the second quarter. Tech responded with a pair touchdowns in the final seven minutes of the half to take control. A 15-yard TD run by receiver Eddie Royal put Tech on top for good, and quarterback Marcus Vick added a short touchdown pass to give the home team a 20-7 halftime lead.

Vick completed 22 of 28 passes for 280 yards and did not have an interception. He also added 52 yards rushing. Pace connected on 3 of 4 field goal tries.

End Darryl Tapp led an aggressive Tech defense, posting six tackles, two quarterback sacks, a forced fumble and a forced interception. Linebacker Vince Hall registered his second touchdown of the season when he picked off a pass and returned it 13 yards for Tech's last score.

Game Notes

• Tech's win against Boston College gave the Hokies just their fifth 8-0 start in school history. Three of the previous 8-0 starts have come under Coach Frank Beamer (1999, 2000 & 2002). The Hokies' first 8-0 start came in 1905.

• Tailback Cedric Humes (r-Sr., Virginia Beach, Va.) returned to the starting lineup just 19 days after breaking the ulna bone in his right forearm against Marshall.

• When Boston College scored in the second quarter to take a 7-6 lead, it marked the first time since Tech's opening game against NC State that the Hokies had trailed on the scoreboard. Tech trailed the Wolfpack 13-10 at the half, before tying the game in the third quarter, and eventually took the lead for good with a fourth-quarter touchdown.

• Reciever Eddie Royal's (So., Herndon, Va.) rushing touchdown on a reverse was the second rushing TD of his career. Royal also scored on a reverse against Western Michigan in 2004.

Game 9: Hurricanes Dismantle Tech's Title Hopes

No. 5 Miami	27
No. 3 Virginia Tech	7

Lane Stadium/Worsham Field • Blacksburg, Va.
Nov. 5, 2005 • Attendance: 65,115

BLACKSBURG — No. 5 Miami blew by Virginia Tech, 27-7, handing the third-ranked Hokies their worst home loss in 13 seasons and knocking them from the ranks of the unbeaten.

The Hurricanes' top-ranked defense swamped Tech, forcing a season-high six turnovers and holding the Hokies to a season-low of 167 total yards offense. Miami forced four fumbles and intercepted a pair of passes, leading to 17 points. One of the fumbles was recovered in Tech's end zone for a touchdown.

Miami's offense produced 152 yards rushing and 152 yards passing during the contest. Over half of those yards came on two time-eating drives — a 17-play, 82-yard touchdown drive that helped produce a 10-0 halftime lead and a 12-play, 73-yard drive that resulted in a third-quarter field goal.

Between turnovers and UM's defense, Tech never got on track offensively. The Hokies compiled just 53 yards in the first half.

The Hokies' only trip into the red zone resulted in a 2-yard touchdown run by quarterback Marcus Vick in the fourth quarter. Vick, however, completed just 8 of 22 passes and was pressured into all six turnovers.

Game Notes

• Miami's 20-point win was the biggest winning margin for a visiting team at Lane Stadium/ Worsham Field since 1992, when the Hurricanes handed Tech a 43-23 loss. The 'Canes were ranked No. 1 in the nation at the time.

• Tech's loss to Miami snapped a 16-game winning streak in regular season games. The streak dated back to a 17-16 loss to NC State in Blacksburg last season. The Hokies lost in the postseason last year, dropping a 16-13 decision to No. 3 Auburn in the Sugar Bowl.

• Tech's six turnovers were the most for the Hokies since committing six at Boston College in 1998. Prior to turning the ball over six times against the Canes, Tech had committed a combined total of seven turnovers during its first eight games of the season.

• The game marked just the fourth time in its last 131 outings that Virginia Tech has been held to less than 10 points.

Game 10: Hokies Rout 'Hoos For State Bragging Rights

No. 7 Virginia Tech	52
Virginia	14

Harrison Field at Scott Stadium • Charlottesville, Va.
Nov. 19, 2005 • Attendance: 63,344

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. — Virginia Tech rebounded from its disappointing loss to Miami by posting a lop-sided 52-14 victory against state-rival Virginia at a sold-out Harrison Field at Scott Stadium.

The Hokies' 52 points were the most points scored by either team in the series, which dates back to 1895.

The Hokies established control of the game early, scoring 24 unanswered points in the first half.

Tech added four rushing touchdowns in the third quarter, while pounding out 333 total yards on the ground.

Tailbacks Cedric Humes and Branden Ore combined for 228 of those rushing yards and five touchdowns, while quarterback Marcus Vick passed for a pair of TDs. Even George Bell got into the action, posting 74 yards on the ground.

Tech's defense limit Virginia to 114 yards rushing and 254 yards overall.

End Darryl Tapp posted a pair of sacks and rover Aaron Rouse picked off two passes to lead the effort.

Game Notes

• The Virginia game marked the first time since 2002 that the Hokies had two 100-yard rushers in a game. Branden Ore (r-Fr., Chesapeake, Va.) ran for 115 yards on 15 carries against the Cavaliers, while senior starter Cedric Humes (Virginia Beach, Va.) added 113 yards on 17 attempts. It marked the 28th time since 1962 that a pair of Tech backs had accomplished the feat and the fourth time it was done against Virginia. The last two Tech backs to rush for 100 yards or more in the same game were Lee Suggs (197) and Kevin Jones (132) against Rutgers in '02.

• Tech's 333 yards rushing against Virginia were the most for the Hokies since picking up 337 yards on the ground in a 51-7 win over Syracuse at Lane Stadium/Worsham Field in 2003. The last time Tech had more rushing yards in a road game was in 2002 when the Hokies gained 334 yards at Boston College on the way to a 28-23 win.

Game 11: Hokies Clinch Coastal Crown With Win

North Carolina	3
No. 5 Virginia Tech	30

Lane Stadium/Worsham Field • Blacksburg, Va.
Nov. 26, 2005 • Attendance: 65,115

BLACKSBURG — Stingy defense and a grinding second-half ground game powered Virginia Tech to a 30-3 home victory and a spot in the first ACC Football Championship game.

The Hokies led by a slim 6-3 margin at halftime before taking control to win the ACC's Coastal Division crown. Tech's defense was outstanding the entire game, limiting the Tar Heels to 196 total yards, including just 36 on the ground. Defensive end Darryl Tapp posted two sacks, seven quarterback hurries and broke up two passes as Tech held UNC to just 60 yards over the final two quarters.

Tech benefited from an interception, a pair of blocked kicks and a goal-line stand that saw the Hokies hold North Carolina out of the end zone on four plays after the Tar Heels got a first-and-goal at the Hokies' 2-yard line.

Offensively, Tech turned to its running game in the second half when 31 of its 33 plays came on the ground. Senior Cedric Humes (134 yds.) and redshirt freshman Branden Ore (104) combined for 238 of Tech's 277 rushing yards as Tech 21 third-quarter points to ensure the victory.

Game Notes

• Tailback Cedric Humes (r-Sr., Virginia Beach, Va.) rushed for a career-high 134 yards during the game. Humes' previous best was 120 yards against Florida A&M in 2004.

• For the second straight game, Tech had two players rush for 100 yards or more in the same game. Humes and Branden Ore (r-Fr., Chesapeake, Va.) ran for 134 and 104 yards, respectively, against the Tar Heels. A week earlier, Ore accounted for 115 yards and Humes 113 yards during a win at Virginia. The last time Tech had two backs rush for over 100 yards in back-to-back games was in 2002 when Lee Suggs and Kevin Jones accomplished the feat in consecutive games against Boston College and Rutgers.

• The game marked the final home game for 19 Virginia Tech seniors including 11 starters.

ALL EYES ON VICK

• The past of quarterback Marcus Vick (r-Jr., Newport News, Va.) is well documented and there's no doubt all eyes have been on Vick this year. Coaches and fans are happy that all eyes have been on him for being the leader of Tech's offense.

• After sitting out last season while being suspended from all university activities, Vick re-enrolled in January of 2005 and entered spring practice as the No. 3 man on the depth chart. He didn't stay there long and by the end of spring ball, he was elevated to the starting position.

• For all the hype and accolades Vick is receiving, he still has started only 11 collegiate games. He saw action as the quarterback in 2003, and even caught a touchdown pass as a receiver in the Insight Bowl against Cal, but this will be just his 12th collegiate start at quarterback.

• He has thrown for 1,855 yards and 14 touchdowns on the season, with nine interceptions. He also has rushed for four scores, giving him scores throwing, running and receiving in his career.

• He earned ACC Co-Offensive Back of the Week honors for his play at West Virginia. He ran for a career-high 133 yards and a score at Maryland and passed for a career-high 280 yards against No. 13 Boston College.

• Vick was named Monday the ACC's first-team all-conference quarterback, marking the second year in a row a Tech quarterback (Bryan Randall, 2004) has won the honor.

FINDING IMOH

• The speedy and diminutive Mike Imoh (Sr., Fairfax, Va.), at 5-foot-7, presents problems for the opposition with his height and size, as he can hide behind the bigger offensive linemen, making it hard to find him.

• Last season at UNC, he set a new single-game Virginia Tech rushing record with 243 yards on 32 carries, breaking Kevin Jones' mark of 241 set at Pittsburgh in 2003.

• He has rushed for 415 yards and four scores this year. He has missed three games this year with ankle injuries — Marshall, Virginia, North Carolina — but hopes to be back full speed this week.

HUUUUUUUUUUUUUUMES

• Cedric Humes (r-Sr., Virginia Beach, Va.) is the co-No. 1 at tailback with Imoh and the two have split a majority of the carries this year.

• He suffered a fractured right ulna against Marshall and had surgery the next day. He returned 19 days later and started against Boston College.

• This year, he has rushed for 632 yards and 10 scores, including a career-high 134 yards last week against North Carolina. He has posted consecutive 100-yard games, rushing for 113 at Virginia two weeks ago.

THE YOUNG STALLIONS

• Branden Ore (Chesapeake, Va.) and George Bell (Fayetteville, N.C.) are both anxious to get on the field as much as they can after sitting out the 2004 campaign.

• Ore has rushed for 584 yards and six TDs on 93 carries, including 146 yards against Marshall and 115 yards and two scores against Virginia, earning him ACC Rookie of the Week honors. After last week's 104-yard effort against UNC, he has now rushed for over 100 yards in two consecutive games and three times this year.

• Humes and Ore both have rushed for over 100 yards in each of the last two games, marking the first time that's happened at Tech since Lee Suggs and Kevin Jones did it against Boston College and Rutgers in 2002.

• Bell has rushed for 192 yards on 42 carries with two scores.

• Tech's top four tailbacks — Humes, Imoh, Ore and Bell — have combined to rush for 1,823 yards and 22 TDs this season.

A LONG ROAD BACK

• The road back from a devastating knee injury during the fall of 2002 has been arduous — to say the least — for tailback George Bell. One of the nation's premier high school running backs, Bell tore the MCL, ACL, and PCL in his left knee three games into his junior season. This wasn't just a tear. These were knee ligaments that were shredded. Still, Bell was a big name on the national recruiting boards.

• Even though he played in just three games during his senior year in high school, he was one of the most highly recruited backs in the country, picking Virginia Tech over Michigan, North Carolina, NC State and others. He enrolled at Tech in January of 2004, went through spring practice and redshirted last fall.

• ACL reconstruction surgery, such as the one Bell had, uses a graft to replace the ligament in the knee. The most common grafts used in surgeries such as this are called autografts. This technique uses part of your own body, such as the tendon of the kneecap (patellar tendon) or one of the hamstring tendons to reconstruct the ACL.

• In Bell's case, the ACL was repaired using allograft tissue, which is donor material. For Bell, an ACL from a cadaver was implanted in Bell's left knee along with a dissolvable screw.

ROYAL FLUSH

• No true freshman made a bigger impact on Tech's dream season last year than Eddie Royal (Herndon, Va.). Now a sophomore, he leads a young, but very talented group of receivers.

• Last year, Royal caught 28 passes for 480 yards and three scores. His 80-yard catch and score at Georgia Tech sparked a big comeback and he caught the game-winning touchdown to secure Tech's 16-10 win over Miami to clinch the ACC title. He also averaged 11 yards per punt return, returning 25 punts, and 25.8 yards on 12 kickoff returns.

• Royal is the youngest of a talented group of seven children. His brother, Chris, is a senior defensive back at Marshall and was among the nation's leaders in interceptions last year with six. His sister, Christina, is the Regimental Commanding Officer (RCO) for the Virginia Tech Corps of Cadets. The Air Force cadet is a cadet colonel, and that's the highest rank a cadet can have. In the history of the VTCC, Christina is the fourth female to achieve this rank and position, and the first African American female to do so.

• Royal, at 5-10, 171 pounds, bench pressed 380 pounds in the offseason to shatter the record for Tech receivers (365 pounds), which he set last year. "That's probably the best bench press, pound for pound when you look at the size of the individual, since I've been here," said Hokies' strength and conditioning coach Mike Gentry. "And this is my 19th season."

• At West Virginia, he caught six passes for 71 yards and a score. He has 21 catches for 271 yards and two touchdowns this year. He also has a rushing touchdown.

THE SPEEDSTER

• David Clowney (Jr., Delray Beach, Fla.) is the most experienced of the group and is making the most of his time on the field, earning starts the past nine games.

• Clowney has spent time on Tech's track team as a sprinter and clocked a 4.33 40-yard dash in spring testing.

• Clowney made a sliding catch in the end zone at NC State and caught a 35-yard scoring pass at Duke. For the season, he has 28 catches for 515 yards and three scores.

THE OLD MAN

• He may only be a redshirt sophomore, but Josh Hyman (Chesapeake, Va.) is constantly kidded by his younger receiving mates for being the old man of the group. The 22-year-old set a new freshman record a year ago with five touchdown grabs.

Tech Among Nation's Best in Return TDs

• The Hokies have scored six touchdowns this season via returns (4 INT, 1 fumble, 1 blocked FG). Since 1999, Tech has 51 return touchdowns, six behind Miami.

School	1999	2000	2001	2002	2003	2004	2005	Bowls	Total

A Tradition of Non-Offensive Scoring

Tech scored 11 touchdowns via non-offensive means, scoring 77 points through non-offensive means in 2003, tops in the nation, just ahead of NC State and Miami's 10. Tech was second last year with six and currently is tied for the national lead with six.

• After graduating Deep Creek High in 2002, Hyman went to Fork Union Military Academy for a semester, before enrolling at Tech in the Spring of 2003. He then redshirted in 2003 before making his debut as a 21-year-old freshman last year.

• Hyman has 11 catches on the season, five coming against Boston College, for 153 yards.

PICK ONE OUT OF THE HAT

• There are three other receivers who are seeing significant playing time.

• Josh Morgan (So., Washington, D.C.) finished last season on a high note, catching three passes for a Tech bowl record 126 yards — including an 80-yarder — and two scores vs. Auburn. He has 21 catches for 343 yards and three TDs this year.

• Justin Harper (So., Catawba, N.C.) caught five passes for 84 yards and a score in 11 games last year. He already has 13 catches this year for 198 yards.

• Jeremy Gilchrist (r-Fr., Virginia Beach, Va.) always seems to be open and has perhaps the best sets of hands of any of Tech's top six receivers.

• Each of the top six ran 4.5 or faster 40-yard dashes in spring max testing.

USING THE TIGHT ENDS

• Jeff King (r-Sr., Pulaski, Va.) had a scoring reception in four consecutive games earlier this year, marking the first time in the modern era (since 1950) a Tech receiver has done that in one season.

• For his career, the 2005 second-team All-ACC selection has 11 touchdown catches, setting a new school record for career TD receptions by a tight end.

• He spent part of the winter playing with the Tech basketball team. He saw action in 16 games, averaging 6.1 minutes, 1.1 points and 1.6 rebounds per game. He had eight rebounds and six points at Duke.

• This year, he has 20 receptions, including a career-high five at Duke, for 230 yards and five scores.

• John Kinzer (r-So., Fairfax, Va.) makes the move from fullback to tight end this year and will serve as the No. 2 man. He caught a 38-yard TD against Ohio.

• Senior Jordan Trott (Torrance, Calif.) moved from defensive end to tight end in preseason and caught two passes against Virginia.

• Of the last 141 passes caught by Tech tight ends, 102, including 16 of 29 this year, have resulted in first downs.

THE BRUISERS

• Some of the biggest question marks on Tech's offense come in positions occupied by the toughest players — fullback and offensive line.

• Tech returns only one player at fullback with any collegiate experience in Jesse Allen (r-Jr., Monson, Mass.), who is a former walk-on who earned a scholarship this past offseason.

• Up front, three starters returned and several others have stepped up and filled holes, including one who made a big position switch.

THE BIG MEN UP FRONT

• An ongoing experiment is underway to find the best five players to put on the offensive line.

• First-team All-ACC center Will Montgomery (r-Sr., Clifton, Va.) is considered the top lineman on the team and can play at either center or left guard. Last year, he started all 13 games at center after starting 10 games at guard in 2003.

• He has earned ACC Offensive Lineman of the Week honors twice this year, after the Duke and Virginia games.

• He has played 675 offensive snaps this year, grading out at 90 percent with 40 knockdowns.

• Montgomery started at left guard against Georgia Tech while Danny McGrath (r-Jr., Herndon, Va.) made his first start at center, playing 51 snaps. McGrath has started six games at center this year, and graded out at 90 percent at Maryland.

• At right guard, Jason Murphy (r-Sr., Baltimore, Md.) was named first-team All-ACC and has started 18 straight games. The former defensive lineman played 405 snaps on offense with 28 knockdowns in the 2004 regular season. He has played 677 snaps with 37 knockdowns thus far.

• At left guard, Montgomery has started six games, but Reggie Butler (Sr., Keswick, Va.), has started four games this year. Brandon Gore (r-Jr., Warrenton, Va.) also serves as a backup.

• The left tackle spot is in good hands as three-year starter and second-team All-ACC selection Jimmy Martin (Sr., Fairfax, Va.) has started 44 straight games, the longest active streak on the team.

• An honorable mention All-ACC selection as an offensive tackle last year, he graded out at 86 percent in the 2004 regular season. He led the line with a 92 percent gradeout at NC State. He has played 634 snaps this year, grading out at 89 percent with 24 knockdowns.

• He is backed up by Brandon Frye (r-Jr., Myrtle Beach, S.C.), who serves as the back-up at both tackle positions.

• The right tackle spot is another spot in question as Duane Brown (r-So., Richmond, Va.) made the move from the No. 2 man at tight end to right tackle in the second week of preseason. At 6-5, 278 pounds, Brown has the size to make the move, but needs to gain experience as he hasn't played tackle since his freshman year of high school.

• This year, he has played 673 snaps with 21 knockdown blocks, grading out at 82 percent.

ALL WORK, NO GLORY

• Tech's fullbacks won't see a lot of carries this year, but can always be counted on for top effort and solid blocking.

• Leading the way is Allen, who started two games last year, including the Sugar Bowl game against Auburn. He caught three passes for 24 yards and a TD last year.

• Allen earned a scholarship this past offseason, in part, for his extraordinary effort in the weight room. In spring testing, he set a new team record with a 395-pound power clean, and also recorded a 560-pound back squat, a 430-pound bench and a 360-pound push jerk.

• He caught a 3-yard touchdown pass in the win over Ohio and had a big 7-yard reception at Maryland that kept a drive alive that eventually resulted in a 99-yard touchdown march.

THE NEW J-DUB

• Last season, head coach Frank Beamer didn't allow cornerback Jimmy Williams (Sr., Hampton, Va.) to speak to the media after a preseason interview raised some eyebrows. That allowed Williams to concentrate on playing football, and it paid off as he was a first-team All-ACC and led the league in interceptions with five.

• Since last season, by his own admission, Williams has grown up and is ready to assume the leadership responsibilities of the secondary. Williams is on track to graduate this year and is a finalist for both the Nagurski and Thorpe Awards and a first-team All-ACC selection.

• Williams was part of Virginia Tech's biggest position switch last season when he moved from the starting free safety spot to boundary cornerback, while Vincent Fuller took over at free safety. Both benefitted as Williams is now considered one of the top corners in the nation and Fuller was drafted by the Tennessee Titans.

• Williams moved into the spot vacated by Atlanta Falcons' 2004 first-round draft pick DeAngelo Hall. At 6-3, 216 pounds, Williams gives the Hokies one of the biggest cornerbacks in the collegiate ranks. Last year, he led the ACC with five interceptions.

• He opened this year at NC State with five total tackles, including two tackles for loss and a sack. He has 38 stops, including a sack and two for loss, this year, along with five break ups and an interception.

• His interception numbers are way down — he has one this year so far — mostly because teams have opted not to throw his way very often.

BIG SHOES TO FILL

• Eric Green was one of the leaders on Tech's dominating 2004 squad and was a third-round draft pick of the Arizona Cardinals, so whoever takes his spot has some big shoes to fill. Roland Minor (r-So., Washington, D.C.) is ready to fill that roll.

• Minor saw a lot of action last year at boundary corner, but has moved over to field corner. He is an athletic corner who ran a 4.35 40-yard dash in the spring.

• Last season, he had 15 tackles and five break-ups. He earned ACC Defensive Back of the Week honors after intercepting two passes at Georgia Tech, one of which he returned 64 yards for a touchdown.

• Minor had eight tackles at NC State in his first start at cornerback. He returned an interception 23 yards for a score at Duke, earning ACC Defensive Back of the Week honors.

• He has 29 tackles, two interceptions and a fumble recovery on the season, starting 10 games.

YOUNG AND EAGER

• Brandon Flowers (Delray Beach, Fla.) had the odd distinction of having a touchdown already as a redshirt freshman, before the first snap of the 2005 season. That's because Flowers returned an interception 38 yards for a score against Western Michigan, but broke his leg later that game. He sat out the rest of the season and was granted a medical redshirt.

• Flowers is considered the No. 2 man at both field and boundary corner. He's battling with Minor for the starting job and got his first career start against Marshall.

MACHO MAN

• Perhaps no player since Kevin Jones has generated this much buzz as freshman as Victor "Macho" Harris has. The Highland Springs, Va., native has seen time mostly on special teams this year, blocking a punt against UNC.

• The D-Back was ranked the No. 1 player in the state by The Roanoke Times and rivals.com ranked him the No. 28 player in the nation, the No. 3 "athlete" in the nation and the No. 1 player in the state.

• The PARADE All-American scored a total of 70 touchdowns his final two seasons and chose Virginia Tech over Michigan, Virginia, Miami and USC.

• The story of his tumultuous December of 2004 is widely known. First, he suffered third-degree burns, on the day Tech head coach Frank Beamer and assistant Jim Cavanaugh were coming to his house for a recruiting visit, Dec. 15.

• Harris' mother, Maritza, was preparing a meal for the coaches, and a grease fire broke out in the kitchen while she was at the store. Harris put out the fire by throwing a quilt on the pan, but suffered burns in the process. He has small scars on his face, and skin grafts on his right forearm.

• Then, 10 days after Beamer's visit, five days after he committed to the Hokies, his mother fainted at home on Christmas Day and passed away at the hospital.

• He has a tattoo on his left forearm an image of his mother and the words: "My angel. My reason. My mother." He also has a new tattoo on his neck that reads "Mama's Boy." Maritza Harris was 43.

THE NUMBERS GAME

2002 ... Tech and Florida State met at Alltel Stadium for the Gator Bowl.

1975 ... the last year Virginia Tech defeated Florida State in football.

580 ... combined rushing yards from Tech's tailback position during the Hokies' last two games.

383 ... Tech's point total for the season currently ranks seventh-best in school history.

380 ... bench press by 171-pound receiver Eddie Royal.

204.6 ... rushing yards per game by the Hokies currently leads the Atlantic Coast Conference.

144 ... first downs allowed by the Hokies' defense are the fewest by an ACC team.

137/117 ... points scored by Virginia Tech in the third quarter of play compared to opponents' combined scoring total for all quarters this season.

116 ... pass interceptions by the Hokies since the beginning of the 2000 season.

100 ... touchdowns scored on defense and special teams during Coach Frank Beamer's tenure at Tech.

96 ... tackles by linebacker Vince Hall rank him fourth in the ACC.

37 ... yards needed by senior Mike Imoh to move into fourth place in career kickoff return yards at Tech.

34 ... total offensive plays of 20 yards or more in which quarterback Marcus Vick has been involved (out of 45 total for the offense and 63 for the team).

27 ... scoring drives of 60 or more yards by the Hokies.

8.5 ... average yards gained per pass for the Hokies leads the ACC despite the fact the Hokies rank 10th overall in the league in passing offense.

7 ... quarterback hurries by defensive end Darryl Tapp during the UNC game.

6 ... points needed by kicker Brandon Pace to move into seventh place in all-time scoring at Tech.

1 ... the Hokies rank No. 1 in the ACC in total defense, while FSU ranks No. 1 in total offense.

DEFENSIVE BATTLES

• The only positions that had true battles for the starting position heading into the fall were those at free safety and rover. Those spots were vacated by seniors and left the door open for hungry reserves ready to make their mark.

THE CAPTAIN'S SPOT

• The free safety spot is considered the captain of Tech's defense and two players are battling for that spot.

• Taking the edge of late is the oft-moved, never-complaining Justin Hamilton (r-Sr., Clintwood, Va.). Hamilton moved to free safety after two years at receiver and last season as a tailback. He has earned six starts this year, recording 26 tackles, four break ups and is second on the team with three interceptions.

• Last year, as a tailback, he played in all 13 games, carrying the ball 75 times for 336 yards and three scores.

• D.J. Parker (So. Hampton, Va.) played cornerback last season, but has made the move to free safety. He is continuing to learn the defense, check-offs and alignments — something 2004 free safety Vincent Fuller thrived at.

• Last year, he played in 12 games, recording 10 tackles and a forced fumble.

• He has started five games, recording 30 tackles, two PBUs and a fumble recovery. He also returned a blocked field goal 78 yards for a TD against Georgia Tech.

ROVER DUTIES

• Aaron Rouse (r-Jr., Virginia Beach, Va.) leads the charge at the rover spot after moving from whip linebacker to the spot in the spring.

• Rouse made his presence known at NC State, intercepting two passes, breaking up two passes, forcing a fumble and recording eight tackles to earn ACC Defensive Back of the Week honors. He also had two interceptions and eight tackles at Virginia

• Cary Wade (r-Jr., Fairfax, Va.) serves as the top backup.

REPRESENTIN' THE 757

• Bryan Stinespring and Jim Cavanaugh have made livings out of signing the best players to come out of the Hampton Roads area, also called the "757" for its area code.

• On defense alone, nine starters or key contributors come from the area, while five on offense and Tech's kicker call the 757 home.

HOME-GROWN TALENT

• Nine of the 11 scheduled starters on offense for this week's game are from the Commonwealth of Virginia.

WR	Eddie Royal	Herndon
OT	Jimmy Martin	Fairfax
OG	Will Montgomery	Clifton
C	Danny McGrath	Herndon
OT	Duane Brown	Richmond
TE	Jeff King	Pulaski
TB	Mike Imoh	Fairfax
TB	Cedric Humes	Virginia Beach
QB	Marcus Vick	Newport News

• Ten of the 11 starters on defense call Virginia home. The only scheduled starter not from Virginia is cornerback Roland Minor, and he's not from that far away, calling Washington, D.C., his home.

• In addition, both kickers — punter Nic Schmitt (Salem) and kicker Brandon Pace (Va. Beach) — are from the Commonwealth.

TEAM • UNITED

• The Virginia Tech football team has once again officially partnered with the United Way for the 2005 season after a successful debut last season.

• The partnership is multi-faceted, with a fundraising effort this fall through the sale of orange "TEAM UNITED" bracelet rubber bands.

• In addition, Virginia Tech players will lend their time and efforts to volunteering in the community at agencies coordinated by the United Way of Montgomery, Radford and Floyd.

• The bands, which are for sale around campus and at the stadium on game days, helped raise nearly $33,000 for the United Way of Montgomery, Radford and Floyd last year.

BOOK (DEFENSIVE) ENDS

• A mix of old and new faces are looking to continue the Hokie pass rush that has always been a staple piece of defensive coordinator Bud Foster's defenses.

• Senior Darryl Tapp (Chesapeake, Va.), who has garnered first-team All-ACC honors two years in a row, is a speedy rusher who goes full-speed all the time. Last year, he had 16.5 tackles for loss and 8.5 sacks.

• Last season against Florida A&M, Tapp had a sack, forced fumble, fumble recovery, quarterback hurry and interception in the first eight minutes of the game.

• This year, he has 41 stops, including 10.5 for loss and a career-high 9.0 sacks, along with 34 QB hurries, three forced fumbles and a blocked field goal. He had two sacks, two PBU, seven quarterback hurries and a blocked field goal last week against North Carolina.

• Tapp, a workout fanatic, can often be seen around campus in the summer riding his bicycle up the hills of Blacksburg with ankle weights to strengthen his legs.

• Redshirt sophomore Chris Ellis (Hampton, Va.) is a physical specimen at 6-4, 251 pounds. He is coming off an outstanding spring which saw him earn defensive MVP honors.

• Against Georgia Tech, he picked off a Reggie Ball pass and raced 29 yards for his first collegiate touchdown. He has 37 tackles, including 9.0 for loss, this year.

• Redshirt junior Noland Burchette (Richmond, Va.) has returned from a right triceps injury that required surgery in the spring and is one of three anchors at the end spot.

• This year, he has 20 tackles, including 2.5 tackles for loss and two sacks, a forced fumble and fumble recovery.

• Rounding out the top four at defensive end is surprising Orion Martin (r-Fr., Martinsville, Va.). Martin walked onto the squad after spending a semester at Norfolk State and one semester at Hargrave Military Academy.

• He made quite an impression in the spring game, posting a game-high seven tackles, including 3.5 for a loss and two sacks. He was given the Paul Torgersen Award, awarded to the top newcomer and earned a scholarship shortly after.

• Seeing time on both defense and special teams, he has 21 tackles, including 1.5 for loss and half a sack.

J-LEW AND COMPANY

• The defensive tackle spot is anchored by senior Jonathan Lewis (Richmond, Va.), the only Lewis on the line this year as his older brother, Kevin, graduated last year.

• Lewis, who was named a second-team All-ACC performer, was a force on the line for Tech last year and has been so again this year. Lewis, who has started 40 straight games, has 33 tackles, including 6.5 for loss and four sacks this year.

• At the other tackle spot, Tim Sandidge (r-Sr., Madison Heights, Va.) has started seven games this year. Sandidge has played in 47 games, starting 12. He had a sack at NC State and has 32 tackles, including two sacks, on the season.

• Redshirt sophomore Carlton Powell (Chesapeake, Va.) started the first game, but sprained an ankle and finally returned to the starting lineup, starting three games. He has 11 tackles, including 1.0 for loss and half a sack.

• Also looking for playing time are Barry Booker (r-So., Amherst, Va.) and Kory Robertson (r-So., Martinsville, Va.). Both have shown flashes of being contributors and will be looked upon to spell the starters. Booker has 13 tackles while Robertson has five.

• Much in the same way that Jim Davis was used last year, Tapp could line up inside at tackle for 15-20 snaps per game, especially in pass-rushing situations.

MR. ANDERSON

• One of Tech's defensive leaders is the quiet and unassuming James Anderson (r-Sr., Chesapeake, Va.). Anderson moved from third to first on the depth chart at whip linebacker during the 2004 spring practice, and didn't look back. He started all 13 games last year, recording 48 tackles.

• He is second on the team with 76 stops, including 8.0 for loss and 3.0 sacks, and has one interception.

• Anderson's steady play allowed the coaches to move Aaron Rouse (r-Jr., Virginia Beach, Va.) to the rover spot, and Brenden Hill (r-Jr., Newport News, Va.) to be Anderson's top back-up.

• Anderson, who is heavily involved with Athlete's In Action, spent a week in Fort Collins, Col., this past summer participating in the AIA Ultimate Summer Training Camp. He went with teammates Darryl Tapp (Sr., Chesapeake, Va.) and Grant Throckmorton (So., Wytheville, Va.). The camp was designed to teach athletes how to apply spiritual principles to the lives and sports.

CALL 9-11

• The linebacking duo of No. 9 Vince Hall and No. 11 Xavier Adibi will team up to give Tech a pair of outstanding athletes manning the middle.

• Hall (r-So., Chesapeake, Va.) has started the last 23 games at the mike position and was named a second-team All-ACC linebacker. He leads the team with 96 tackles and has earned ACC Defensive Lineman of the Week honors two times. He also returned a fumble for a TD against Marshall and returned an interception for a score against Boston College.

• Adibi (r-So., Hampton, Va.) has taken over the starting duties at the backer position. Adibi was sidelined with a torn tendon in his right biceps muscle suffered in the 2004 opener against USC. The highly touted linebacker tore the tendon on his 23rd college play and had surgery on Aug. 31 to re-attached the tendon to his humerus bone. He returned for the Georgia Tech game, despite initially being feared lost for the year.

• He recorded 10 tackles at Maryland and has 61 on the year. He also has two interceptions, including one he returned 25 yards for a score against GT.

• Redshirt senior Blake Warren (Clifton, Va.) and sophomore Brett Warren (Clifton, Va.) will be the main backups at both positions. Blake, who is legally blind without his contact lenses, started the opener at backer last year and recorded his fourth career interception in the FAMU game, returning it 46 yards for a score. He has 12 tackles this season.

• Brett saw his first action on defense at Duke and has 13 tackles, including one for loss, this season.

Hokies in the NFL

Nathaniel Adibi	Colts	DE	2
Jim Davis	Jaguars	DE	R
Bryan Randall	Falcons	QB	R

MR. EXCALIBUR

• During Tech's summer strength and conditioning testing, James Anderson (r-Sr., Chesapeake, Va.) once again reached "Elite Athlete" status. It marked the fifth time he had earned the Excalibur Award, which represents the highest honor in the Hokies' athletic performance program. The level is a predetermined performance test that measures achievement for the individual's position. It is comprised of four tests in strength (bench, squat, push jerk and power clean) and five tests in performance (vertical jump, 40-yard time, 10-yard time, sit-reach test and 20-yard shuttle).

• Anderson is the first player ever to win the Excalibur Award five times.

• Also earning "Elite" status this off-season for the third time was offensive lineman Will Montgomery (r-Sr., Clifton, Va.). Earning it for the second time were offensive lineman Brandon Frye (r-Jr., Myrtle Beach, S.C.) and defensive end Darryl Tapp (Sr., Chesapeake, Va.).

• Tight end John Kinzer (r-So., Fairfax, Va.) picked up his first Excalibur Award this off-season.

GETTIN' THEIR KICKS

• Brandon Pace (r-Jr., Virginia Beach, Va.) returns to handle the place-kicking duties. The former walk-on — he earned a scholarship last preseason — gets quick height on the ball. This year, he is 16-for-19 on FGs with a long of 44 yards and is also 47-for-48 on PATs.

• He finished one point away from tying the single-season school scoring record for a kicker and earned first-team All-ACC honors and last year. Pace was named a Lou Groza semifinalist this year.

• Stepping in for four-year starter Vinnie Burns at punter is Nic Schmitt (r-Jr., Salem, Va.). He has patiently waited his time and is now getting his chance.

• The lefty can boom the ball and is also a demon in the weight room. He earned Super Iron Hokie honors in the weight room this past spring, setting a new position record in both the push jerk (360) and power clean (360). His power clean mark was the ninth-best in program history and he also recorded a 390-pound bench and a 605-pound back squat in spring testing.

• He is averaging 42.4 yards on 39 punts with 13 downed inside the 20-yard line and a net average of 36.1 yards. He was named one of 10 semifinalists for the Ray Guy Award.

• At 6-2, 273 pounds, Schmitt isn't your prototypical punter. He also is an outstanding bowler who frequents the New River Valley Superbowl with Jesse Allen (r-Jr., Monson, Mass.). Schmitt consistently bowls games over 200 and had a 298 game last spring, just missing the perfect game.

• For the 11th consecutive year, Tech's punter is a left-footer. Starting with John Thomas (1995), through Jimmy Kibble (1996-1999), Robert Peaslee (2000) and Vinnie Burns (2001-2004), Schmitt will look to carry on the strong tradition established by the southpaws before him.

• Sophomore Jared Develli (Sterling, Va.) is handling the kickoff duties. Last year, Develli consistently put the ball deep in the end zone with good height. He has 28 touchbacks on 62 kickoffs this year. The former walk-on has two tackles on coverage this year and earned a scholarship this preseason.

• Kick-off man Jud Dunlevy (r-So., Roanoke, Rapids, N.C.) has seen action as well. Freshman punter Brent Bowden (Centreville, Va.), the brother of current Florida State punter Chris Hall, will redshirt.

THE GAME ON RADIO

• Tech's games can be heard on radio stations throughout Virginia and the mid-Atlantic region on the Virginia Tech ISP Sports Network. Bill Roth (play-by-play) and Mike Burnop (analyst) comprise Tech's football broadcast crew.

• Coverage begins 90 minutes prior to kickoff with Davenport & Company College Football Digest. The Advance Auto Parts Hokies' Countdown picks up the action 60 minutes prior to the game. The Point After is a 90-minute post-game show.

• For a complete list of radio stations, please consult Tech's football media guide or the Fan's Guide to Radio and TV on hokiesports.com.

• Every game will be broadcast live on XM Satellite with the home team radio feed.

ISP SPORTS TELEVISION

• Highlights of Tech's games, post-game interviews and other features can be seen on Virginia Tech Sports Today, Tech's weekly television magazine show presented by ISP Sports.

• The show, featuring Tech coach Frank Beamer with host Bill Roth, can be seen every Sunday on a network of stations throughout the Commonwealth and region: Bristol, Tenn. (WCYB, Sun., 9:30 a.m.), Washington D.C. (Newschannel 8, Sun., 10 a.m.), Roanoke (WSLS, Sun., 10 a.m.), Raleigh, N.C. (FOX50, Sunday, 11:30 a.m.), Norfolk (WAVY, Sun., Noon), Harrisonburg (WHSV, Sun., Noon), Richmond (WRIC, Sun., Noon), Bluefield (WVVA, Sunday, Noon), Greensboro, N.C. (PAX16, Sun., 1 p.m.). The show is also shown on Comcast SportsNet every Tuesday at 2:30 p.m.

THE HOKIE HOTLINE

• The Advance Auto Parts Hokie Hotline airs each Monday beginning at 7 p.m. Fans can catch the show live at Beamer's restaurant in Christiansburg, listen over the radio on local affiliates via the ISP/Virginia Tech Sports Network, or on hokietv.com.

BIGGER ... LOUDER ... BETTER

Now in its 41st season as an arena of collegiate football competition, Lane Stadium/Worsham Field has gone through numerous changes, renovations and additions. But through it all, it has always been regarded as one of the finest places to watch — and toughest places for opponents to play — a college football game.

In the summer of 2003, $1.9 million was raised to fund the ongoing planning of the west side expansion. That money allowed for the ground breaking of the west side project, which will be completed this year. This project marks the third of a three-phase project at Lane Stadium/ Worsham Field.

Ground was broken in November and crews began building around the current press box, laying the above and below ground settings, as well as removing the two light towers on that side of the stadium.

Following the completion of the 2004 season, the current press box was removed and the structure was filled in to match the new structure.

A new press area on the west side highlights the media's needs, along with a dining area and improved overall facilities.

In addition, the fencing that surrounds the stadium has been removed and the area on the west side exterior of the newly renovated stadium has been landscaped with walkways and a weekday parking lot for ticket patrons, Hall of Fame and Hokie Club visitors.

"If people believe that fans do not help out, they didn't see that game. It was so loud down there at certain points, that it was kind of unreal. There wasn't any use to try to change a play. It was just that loud."

Byron Leftwich, Marshall QB

BEAMERBALL

• During the Frank Beamer era at Tech, putting points on the scoreboard has always been a team effort — the offensive team, the defensive team and the special teams. It's called BeamerBall, and what sets it apart are the contributions of the defense and special teams.

• Each of Tech's last eight teams is ranked among the school's top 10 highest scoring teams. During that time, a player at every position on the defensive unit has produced at least one touchdown. And 25 different players have scored touchdowns while playing on Tech's special teams. Altogether, the defense and special teams have combined for 100 TDs since Beamer arrived in 1987, including 83 in Tech's last 148 games.

• Under Beamer, Tech's defense has scored 64 TDs, with 40 coming on pass interceptions, 22 on fumble returns and two on fumble recoveries. The special teams have added 36 TDs, including 15 on blocked punts, 12 on punt returns, four on kickoff returns, four on blocked field goals and one on a fumble recovery.

• Fittingly, the trend started in Beamer's first game as Tech's head coach when true freshman Jon Jeffries returned a kickoff 92 yards for a touchdown against Clemson. It was the Hokies' first TD under Beamer, and it was scored on special teams.

• Under Beamer, 66 different players on defense and special teams have scored TDs. Seventeen of those players — Don Stokes, Jock Jones, Roger Brown, Lawrence Lewis, Antonio Banks, Jim Baron, Keion Carpenter, Pierson Prioleau, Anthony Midget, Cory Bird, Kevin McCadam, Willie Pile, Jimmy Williams, Roland Minor, Vince Hall, Vincent Fuller and Eric Green — scored twice. Jason Lallis, Ike Charlton and Ricky Hall each had three scores, André Davis four and DeAngelo Hall had six.

• Since the start of the 1993 season, Tech is 54-8 in games it scores at least one TD on defense or special teams.

BEAMERBALL II

• Tech's tradition for blocking kicks is another part of BeamerBall. It was carried to new heights in 1998 with 10 blocks during the regular season and two more in the Hokies' Music City Bowl game against Alabama. Tech now has 108 blocks in Frank Beamer's 225 games as the head coach. The Hokies have blocked 54 punts (15 for TDs), 33 field goals and 21 extra points.

• The most prolific kick blockers under Beamer have been defensive lineman Bernard Basham and safety Keion Carpenter, who each posted six blocks during their Tech careers. Basham blocked three field goals and three PATs, while Carpenter blocked six punts.

• Tech blocked more kicks in the 1990s than any other Division I-A team. The Hokies blocked 63 kicks during the decade — 31 punts, 18 PATs and 14 FGs. Tech has started the new decade with 32 blocks.

• During its time in the BIG EAST ('91-03), Tech posted at least three blocked kicks against every team in the league. During that span, Tech blocked 10 kicks against Pittsburgh, nine against Miami, seven versus WVU, six versus Rutgers, four against Boston College and Syracuse, and three versus Temple.

• The teams Tech has victimized the most during Beamer's 19 seasons have been Pittsburgh, West Virginia and Miami. During that span, the Hokies have blocked 10 kicks versus the Panthers and Mountaineers, and nine against the Hurricanes.

• During the Beamer era, Tech has blocked two kicks in a game 19 times, winning 14 of those games. Tech blocked two kicks against four different teams in 1998.
