2014 OUTLOOK

Strong Fall Showing Points Toward Outstanding 2014 Season

With four players returning from the team that finished second in the ACC and qualified for the NCAA Regional last season, expectations are very high for the Virginia Tech golf team in the coming year. Head Coach Jay Hardwick's task has been to build on the team's successful history by continuing to develop his players, all toward the ultimate goal of once again competing for the national championship.

The Hokies had a solid start to the season, finishing runner-up to Oklahoma in the Golfweek Conference Challenge in Iowa. Their third round, 10-under-par 278 was six shots better than the closest team the final day and matched the low round of the tournament. Three players finished in the Top 15 individually, including junior Scott Vincent's tie for medalist honors. The outcome was one position better at their next event, as they defended their championship at the VCU Shootout in Richmond with a dominating performance. Leading Iowa State by just two shots entering the final round, they posted a 22-shot victory following a 14-under-par 274, the low round of the day by 13 shots. Vincent captured another individual victory, senior Bryce Chalkley finished runner-up and junior Trevor Cone finished in fourth place. From there the team traveled to Macon, Ga., for what turned out to be the final playing of one of the premier events in college golf, the Brickyard Collegiate. Tech played consistently well throughout the three days, posting rounds of 283-282-284 to finish at 15-under-par for the tournament and finished third behind host Mercer and Georgia Tech. The Hokies beat ACC foe Florida State by 16 shots and topped No. 1 ranked Georgia by four.

There was no letdown in the strength of the field the following week when the team returned to the Bank of Tennessee Intercollegiate at The Blackthorn Club. This year's event ended in dramatic fashion, as it came down to the final hole to determine the winner. The Hokies trailed Virginia by one stroke when Scott Vincent, playing in the final group of the day, made a 20 foot putt for a birdie on the last hole for the team to draw even; however, Virginia then made a birdie of its own to secure the win. Vincent notched his third individual victory of the season and Chalkley posted another Top 5 finish, with both shooting under-par in every round. The fall season concluded at the UNCG Bridgestone Collegiate at Grandover Resort in Greensboro, N.C. This year's event was once again shortened to 36 holes due to weather, and a slow start in each round turned into a fourth place finish against a diverse and talented group of teams. Overall, the Hokies ended the fall season ranked 12th in the country with a 57-7 won/loss record and posted 10 of 14 rounds at par-or-better.

This year's squad consists of one senior, three juniors, one sophomore and three freshmen. Four of the current players are in the top nine on the all-time scoring list, including this year's team captain, Bryce Chalkley, who has moved up to sixth place after the fall season. His play has been consistent throughout, with his worst finish being 13th at the Golfweek Conference Challenge. He posted a career-best runner-up finish at the VCU Shootout, was ninth at the Brickyard Collegiate, fifth at the Bank of Tennessee Intercollegiate and third at the UNCG Bridgestone Collegiate. His 69.20 final round average led the team in "Crunch Time" scoring, as did his 12 of 14 rounds at par-or-better.

Scott Vincent's three individual victories in the fall are a school record.

Scott Vincent, the ACC Player of the Month for September and two-time Golfweek Player of the Week this fall, has now overtaken fellow Zimbabwean Brendon de Jonge for the top spot on the all-time scoring list with a 72.07 average. Vincent's three individual victories in one season is already a school record as the Hokies head into the spring. He posted a team-best 69.71 scoring average, including 10 of 14 rounds at par-or-better. In Iowa, he played his last six holes in seven-under-par to shoot a final round 64, which tied the Virginia Tech record for lowest individual round set by Johnson Wagner in 2002. Fellow junior Trevor Cone sits just behind Vincent and de Jonge in third place on the all-time scoring list with a 72.92 average. He posted four Top 20 finishes in five events, including a fourth place result at the VCU Shootout and a ninth place finish at the UNCG Bridgestone Collegiate. Cone was the catalyst for the victory at VCU, shooting a career-best 66 in the final round. His 71.50 scoring average for the fall ranks third on the team and he posted nine rounds at par-or-better. Although junior Miles Curley did not play in the lineup for the team in the fall, he did play twice as an individual, with his best result being a 67th place finish at the VCU Shootout.

Sophomore Maclain Huge is currently ninth on the all-time scoring list with a 73.88 average. He competed in all five events for the team this fall, posting Top 25 finishes at the Golfweek Conference Challenge, VCU Shootout and Brickyard Collegiate. His 72.93 scoring average was fourth on the team and included six rounds at par-or-better. Given their success at both the junior and amateur levels it is no surprise that all three freshmen competed at least once in the lineup this fall. Drew Johnson made the lineup for the Golfweek Conference Challenge and competed as an individual twice, at the VCU Shootout and Bank of Tennessee Intercollegiate, where he finished 40th. Joey Lane came in 51st at the Bank of Tennessee Intercollegiate while competing in the lineup, and also played for the team at the UNCG Bridgestone Collegiate. Ryan Mondy shot 70 in the final round at the VCU Shootout to help the team win the title, and his 25th place individual finish was also his best result of the fall.

Under the guidance of Hall of Fame Head Coach Jay Hardwick and 2009 NCAA Assistant Coach of the Year Brian Sharp, this talented group is determined to continue its success in the always-demanding ACC. The spring season will once again begin in Puerto Rico, and with the number of outstanding tournaments that will follow, the Hokies will certainly be well prepared for the ACC Championship and a return to NCAA postseason play.

What Is a Hokie?

The answer leads all the way back to 1896 when Virginia Agricultural and Mechanical College changed its name to Virginia Polytechnic Institute. With the change came the necessity for writing a new cheer and a contest for such a purpose was held by the student body.

Senior O.M. Stull won first prize for his "Hokie" yell, which is still used today. Later, when asked if "Hokie" had any special meaning, Stull explained the word was solely the product of his imagination and was used only as an attention-getter for his yell. It soon became a nickname for all Tech teams and for those people loyal to Tech athletics.

Head Coach: Jay Hardwick (31st season)

*letters earned

PGA Professional and Head Coach Jay Hardwick is in his 31st season at Virginia Tech. During this time, Hardwick has developed the Hokie golf program into one that not only wins, but also does so the right way. Academic integrity, solid fundamentals and a sense of right are trademarks of this program. The Hokies don't just win, they achieve.

With his attention to detail and the support of an outstanding group of boosters, he has brought Virginia Tech golf into national prominence. A look at Hardwick's accomplishments the past 30 years shows just how successful he and his Hokies have been. His teams have finished in the top 10 of 260 tournaments and have won 35 tournaments, including a nation's best six titles during the 2000-01 season. Under Hardwick's direction, the Hokies have appeared in the past seven NCAA Division I Golf Regionals, and most recently qualified for the 2012 NCAA Championship at Riviera Country Club in Pacific Palisades, Calif. Virginia Tech also had consecutive trips to the Regionals from 2001 to 2004, advancing to the NCAA Championship two of those years and finishing eighth in 2001. In total, Hardwick's players have been to 13 NCAA Regionals and advanced to the NCAA Finals six times.

Since 1993, Hardwick has guided the Hokies to eight conference championships, becoming the only coach in NCAA history to have captured conference titles in four different leagues with the same school. His teams won back-to-back championships in the Metro Conference in 1993 and 1994, and again in the Atlantic 10 Conference in 1996 and 1997. Virginia Tech claimed the BIG EAST Conference Championship in 2001, its first season of competition in the league, duplicated the feat in 2002, and made it a three-peat in 2003, staging a dramatic come-from-behind victory over Notre Dame on the Irish's home course, where the team overcame an 11-stroke deficit on the last three holes.

Following his induction into the Golf Coaches Association of America Hall of Fame, Jay Hardwick and his wife, Celia, are pictured with golf legend Arnold Palmer, who received the association's Lifetime Achievement Award.

When the Virginia Tech community was rocked by the tragedy of April 16, 2007, Hardwick mourned with his players and then went about helping the community in the best way he knew how: he and his team of achievers captured one of the most improbable, but well-earned, ACC titles in any sport. His group of players, with tears in their eyes and a strong will, tied Georgia Tech for the 2007 ACC Golf Championship six days after the tragedy.

A tireless worker, Hardwick has taken on even more duties and responsibilities over the past eleven years. In January 2003, he was named Director of Golf Operations at Virginia Tech, a position that not only continues his stewardship over the Virginia Tech Golf Course, but also the Pete Dye River Course of Virginia Tech. Since 2004, when the Hokies joined the Atlantic Coast Conference, Hardwick has overseen a program to improve facilities and continue the quest to remain among the elite programs in collegiate golf. "The River" underwent a major renovation that year by renowned golf course architect Pete Dye. The renovation included a new state-of-the-art practice facility for the golf team and other amenities that afford Hokie golfers one of the finest team-oriented practice complexes in the nation. He has also built a solid financial foundation for the program, receiving 35 endowed scholarships over the past 27 years, which will allow numerous student-athletes to continue their careers at the collegiate level.

Never one to prize individual honors, Hardwick has nonetheless received many accolades that are testament to the mark he has left on collegiate golf and the golf world as a whole. In December, 2012 Hardwick was presented with the GCAA Service Award for outstanding service to Virginia Tech and the sport of golf for over 30 years. In 2007 he was inducted into the Golf Coaches Association of America's Hall of Fame. He received the award at the association's annual banquet in Orlando, and sharing the dais with Hardwick and the two other inductees was golf legend Arnold Palmer, who received the Lifetime Achievement Award from the GCAA. Additionally, in 1994 Hardwick received one of his greatest honors when he was selected as the 11th inductee to the Virginia PGA Hall of Fame, making him the youngest member of this elite group.

He was named the inaugural recipient of the Labron Harris Sr., Award in 2005, given by E-Z-GO Textron, in association with the PGA of America. This award is presented to the college or high school coach and PGA Professional whose support of the game through teaching, coaching and involvement in the community has helped ensure the continued growth of the game and represent the finest qualities the game has to offer. He was also named the recipient of the Bill Strausbaugh Award presented by the Middle Atlantic PGA in 2005. This award bestows special recognition on a PGA member who has made significant contributions through mentoring of PGA Professionals and through involvement in community and charitable activities.

Hardwick was named the BIG EAST Conference Coach of the Year in 2001, 2002 and 2003. In 1996 and 1997 he was chosen the Atlantic 10 Conference Coach of the Year, and was also named Metro Conference Coach of the Year in 1992 and 1993. In addition, the coaching members of the Golf Coaches Association of America awarded him the NCAA Golf Coach of the Year for District 3-North for the 1993-94 season. He also received the inaugural Virginia Collegiate Coach of the Year award in 1993 and was selected for the same honor again in 1994, 2001 and 2013.

In the spirit of Virginia Tech's motto "Ut Prosim" (that I may serve), Hardwick has always believed in giving back to the game and volunteering his time. He is a past vice president of the Virginia chapter of the Middle Atlantic PGA, having also served on the tournament rules and regulations committee, the membership committee, and the employment and club relations committee. He has been a head professional for 40 years and is a Class "A" Member, Quarter Century Club Member and Life Member of the PGA of America. Hardwick's experience is well suited to his current role as a liaison between the GCAA and PGA of America.

Head Coach Jay Hardwick and Associate Head Coach Brian Sharp have teamed up to create a winning program at Virginia Tech.

Hardwick was elected president of the BIG EAST Golf Coaches Association for the 2003-04 season and served on the NCAA Golf District Advisory Committee for three years from 1994 to 1997, becoming chairman of District III-North in his last year on the panel. He also was a member of the GCAA Wilson Coaches Top 25 Poll and the Golf Digest Collegiate Poll and served on the All-Region Committee. Hardwick has twice been selected by the NCAA to serve as an instructor at the Youth Education through Sports (YES) golf clinic, which is held at the site of the NCAA Golf Championship. He conducted a clinic in 1990 at Innisbrook, Fla., and again in 1996 in Chattanooga, Tenn. Hardwick has been an instructor at the Championship Coaches Golf School since 1986. During this time he has taught at 74 golf schools.

In 2001 he was an instructor at the Hall of Fame Teaching and Coaching Seminar at Walt Disney World Golf Resort, one of only six coaches selected to present at the two-day seminar prior to the GCAA annual convention and PGA Merchandise Show. Norwegian Cruise Lines selected Hardwick to serve as the golf coordinator in their 1991 NFL/PGA Instruction Program. He conducted golf clinics on the five southern Caribbean Islands of Barbados, Martinique, St. Maarten, Antigua and St. Thomas.

In the summer of 1992, Hardwick was chosen to coach Team USA at the World Junior Team Championship, held in Izumo City, Japan. It marked the first time the United States had officially sponsored a junior team in international competition. Team USA won the gold medal in the 12-team tournament and four of Team USA's players placed in the top 10, including Justin Roof of Conway, S.C., who captured the individual title.

An excellent teacher of the game, Hardwick has compiled an impressive list of playing accomplishments as well. In the fall of 2009, less than a year after reconstructive shoulder surgery, he achieved perhaps the most impressive feat of his playing career by winning the State Senior Open of Virginia. the Middle Atlantic PGA Head Professional Championship by one shot after he birdied the last five holes. That year, he also won the Bobby Jones/Homestead Invitational at the Lower and Upper Cascades with rounds of 68-65 for a seven-shot victory. In addition, he was named a member of the PGA Challenge Cup Team for 1995, 1996 and 1997. He qualified for the National PGA Club Professional Championship in 1978, 1988 and 1992 and was selected by the PGA as a member of the Yamaha Cup team in 1988. He won the 1981 Spalding International Professional Championship in Castle Harbour, Bermuda, and was low pro in the Virginia PGA State Open in 1976.

2009 State Senior Open of Virginia Champion

In both 1989 and 1992, Hardwick compiled a 72.5 competitive stroke average and was a member of the 1989 winning team in the PGA/VSGA team matches. Hardwick also holds five course records, two tournament records and has twice shot 29 in competition.

A Narrows, Va., native, Hardwick played collegiate golf for the same team he now coaches. During his four-year playing career at Tech, the Hokies posted a 64-9 match play record and won three straight state intercollegiate championships. Hardwick was a four-year letterman for Tech and captain of the 1971 squad that claimed the state crown.

After graduating in 1971 with a degree in business administration, Hardwick turned pro and played for a year on the Florida winter tour. In 1973 he became the head professional at Giles Country Club in Pearisburg, Va., where he developed an outstanding junior golf program. He held that position for 10 years before returning to his alma mater. Upon his departure, the club members presented him and his family with a lifetime membership.

Hardwick, who officiated high school and college basketball for 25 years, retired from the sport in 1997 after working more than 1,000 games.

He is married to the former Celia Martin of Pembroke, Va. The couple has a son Cris, daughter-in-law Melissa and grandsons Jacob Dylan and Aiden Thomas, who reside in Fredericksburg.

THE HARDWICK YEARS

The Hokies' Individual Honors Since 1984

A proven recruiter who emphasizes the ideal of the student-athlete, Hardwick has built the golf program around players who are standouts in the classroom as well as on the golf course. During his tenure, the graduation rate for golfers who have completed their eligibility at Virginia Tech is 99 percent. In Hardwick's first four seasons of coaching, the Hokies placed different players on consecutive Academic All-America squads; Jake Allison was named to the 1985 Golf Coaches Association Academic All-America team and Mark Teachey earned this distinction in 1986. Carl Wakely received this same prestigious recognition in 2006, now referred to as an All-American Scholar. In 2008 Jurrrian van der Vaart and Drew Weaver became the fourth and fifth All-American Scholars in Virginia Tech history and Weaver became the first Tech player to earn this award twice when he was named an All-American Scholar again in 2009. Both van der Vaart and Weaver were named the Virginia Tech ACC Male Scholar-Athlete of the Year in 2008 and 2009, respectively. In 2013, Bryce Chalkley became the sixth player to be named an All-American Scholar for the Hokies.

In the past 16 seasons, 11 Tech players were named to the A-10 All-Conference team and 10 more earned All-BIG EAST honors. In 2008, Jurrrian van der Vaart became the first-ever Hokie to earn ACC all-conference honors, an honor that Drew Weaver earned in 2009. In 2013, both Mikey Moyers and Scott Vincent were named to the All-ACC team. In total, Hardwick's players have been named to the all-state team 52 times, the all-conference team 35 times, the GCAA All-Region team 11 times and named All-America 12 times.

ASSOCIATE HEAD COACH BRIAN SHARP

One of the top assistant coaches in collegiate golf, Brian Sharp is in his 11th season at Virginia Tech and in July 2008 was promoted to associate head coach. He graduated from Virginia Tech in 1995 with a degree in finance and received his MBA from the Pamplin College of Business in 2006. During his career with the Hokies, he was a four-year letterwinner on the golf team.

Sharp was named the recipient of the 2009 Jan Strickland Award presented by TaylorMade-Adidas to the Assistant Coach of the Year, as selected by the Golf Coaches Association of America. The Strickland Award is given to the NCAA Division I, II, III or NAIA assistant coach that, among other things, has excelled in working with their student-athletes both on the course and in the classroom. He received the award at the NCAA Division I Men's Golf Championship banquet at the Inverness Club in Toledo, Ohio, where Jack Nicklaus was the keynote speaker.

The Strickland Award recipient is invited to serve as the assistant coach on the following year's Palmer Cup team, and Sharp traveled to Portrush, Ireland and historic Royal Portrush Golf Club for the event in 2010. The United States team defeated Europe 13-11, their first victory on foreign soil since 2002.

Sharp was also named to the Virginia Tech Sports Hall of Fame in 2009. During Sharp's playing career at Virginia Tech, he won four collegiate events, including the 1995 Metro Conference Golf Championship as a senior. He left Virginia Tech as the all-time leader in career scoring for the Hokies, with a four-year average of 74.14. He also finished his Tech career with the most rounds played, and started in the number-one position in every tournament during that time. Sharp is the only Tech golfer to be both four-time all-conference and first team all-state. In addition, he was named to the NCAA All-District 3-North team twice. He is one of only three players in the history of the league to be a four-time All-Metro Conference selection. He was also selected as the 1995 Metro Conference student-athlete of the year and won the Medallion Award for the most outstanding male student-athlete at Virginia Tech in 1995.

"Brian has done an excellent job for us in the time he has been with our program," Hardwick said. "He has the innate ability to recognize potential immediately, which makes him extremely valuable as a recruiter. He has a wonderful work ethic and all of the attributes that make for a successful coach.

"He is not only one of the top players in Tech history, but also one of the most respected. A four-time MVP and three-time Most Dedicated Player award recipient during his career, it is no surprise that he has continued to have the same success as a coach that he had as a collegiate player and as a professional."

Sharp came to Virginia Tech from the Buy.com Tour (currently the Web.com Tour), where he played in 2002. Sharp turned professional in 1995 and played on various developmental tours before joining the Buy.com Tour. He won his first ever professional event in 1995 on the Powerbilt Tour at the Neuse Golf Club in Raleigh, N.C.

Sharp's duties with the Hokies include recruiting, the off-season conditioning program, instruction and player academic progress, as well as managing the Virginia Tech Golf Team Complex.

"Brian has an excellent understanding of the mechanics of the golf swing and is a very qualified teacher," Hardwick said. "He has all the qualities that any coach would like instilled in his own team — time management, academic prowess, social skills, public speaking ability, attention to detail, high moral character and a dedicated work ethic. We are extremely fortunate to have Brian as a member of our staff. He is an outstanding role model for our players."

A native of Winston-Salem, N.C., Sharp was captain of the 1994 and 1995 Hokie golf teams. He is married to the former Margaret Blackburn of Midlothian, Va. The couple resides in Blacksburg with daughter Meredith and son Cameron.

Brian Sharp was the assistant coach for the victorious Team USA in the 2010 Palmer Cup.

BLACKSBURG, VIRGINIA

College Town, U.S.A. – Home of Virginia Tech

One of America's best college towns, Blacksburg is a perfect setting for a great university like Virginia Tech. Located in Southwest Virginia on a plateau between the Blue Ridge and Alleghany Mountains, Blacksburg combines the laid-back lifestyle of a small town with the amenities one would expect to find around a major center of higher education. The town and university have worked together to create a progressive community that ranks among the nation's elite living environments.

When BusinessWeek released its 2011 rankings, Blacksburg took top honors as "America's best place to raise a family," and is consistently ranked among the country's best places to live. Blacksburg gained national and international attention by creating the world's first "electronic village" in 1993. Businesses and industries have been drawn by the potential the town has to offer.

Established in 1798 by John and William Black, the town is surrounded by scenic mountain views that accentuate the area. Since its founding, Blacksburg has grown to become the largest town in Virginia. More than 42,000 residents (including Tech students) enjoy a close proximity to a variety of recreation areas such as the Blue Ridge Parkway, Appalachian Trail, Claytor Lake and the New River. The region features a moderate climate and four distinct seasons. Blacksburg's location is adjacent to major interstate highways and provides convenient access to most points in the southern and eastern parts of the country.

More information on Blacksburg can be found on the town's web site, www.blacksburg.gov.

THIS IS VIRGINIA TECH

Burruss Hall on the beautiful Virginia Tech campus

Outstanding University Has One of the Nation's Best Athletic Complexes

Nestled in the rolling mountains of Southwest Virginia, the campus of Virginia Tech has that rare quality — a major, thriving modern institute of higher learning, living in harmony with its beautiful surroundings.

The keystones of the Hokies' athletic complex are Lane Stadium and Cassell Coliseum. The ever-expanding 66,233-seat Lane Stadium/Worsham Field is the home of Tech's nationally ranked football team that has appeared in 21 consecutive bowl games and played in the 2000 Nokia Sugar Bowl for the national championship. The football team utilizes a state-of-the-art locker room, which is adjacent to Lane Stadium and opens to the team's practice fields. Cassell Coliseum houses a 9,847-seat arena as well as athletic offices, locker rooms and training facilities. The Hahn Hurst Basketball Practice Center to the east of Cassell affords benefits not only to the basketball team, but all student-athletes.

Other facilities include Rector Field House, site of an indoor Astroturf football field and Mondo track; English Field, the home of the baseball team; the Tech

Softball Park; the Johnson-Miller Track Complex; the Soccer Stadium and Thompson Field, home of the men's and women's soccer teams; lacrosse practice fields; the Christiansburg Aquatic Center, home of the men's and women's swimming teams; the Virginia Tech Golf Course and the Pete Dye River Course of Virginia Tech, site of the Virginia Tech Golf Team Complex.

The Tech baseball team plays at English Field.

Lane Stadium, home of the Hokies' nationally ranked football program, seats 66,233 fans and is known as one of the top venues in collegiate sports.

The Merryman Center is the centerpiece of Virginia Tech's athletic compound.

The Merryman Center is a two-story building on the west side of the Jamerson Athletic Center in the heart of the athletic complex. It is a 40,000-square foot all-purpose facility. The second floor houses an entranceway to the athletic complex, a classroom area and the 130-seat McConnell auditorium. The first floor includes a conditioning and weightlifting complex, a multipurpose gymnasium and an expanded area for sports medicine and training.

Nearby Cochrane Hall houses many of Tech's student-athletes. West End Market is a dining facility located in Cochrane and in 2009 was named the No. 1 dining hall in the nation by the Princeton Review. The university's dining services has been ranked in the top 3 for "Best Campus Food" since 2006, receiving the No. 1 ranking twice during that time.

Golfers have access to the new 7,000 square foot W.A. and Mae Street Olympic Sports Athletic Performance Center, located adjacent to Cassell Coliseum. Here athletes train with free weights and modern Nautilus equipment while receiving expert instruction under the direction of associate athletics director for athletic performance Mike Gentry.

Also on the Virginia Tech campus is the Burrows-Burleson indoor and outdoor tennis facility and the War Memorial Gym, which has an Olympic-sized pool and facilities for gymnastics, volleyball, handball, racquetball and basketball.

A student recreational facility, McComas Hall, is located on the Tech campus as well. This facility houses the student health center, an indoor pool, gyms, a jogging track and various other exercise equipment for Tech students.

Virginia Tech's overall athletic complex is, without question, one of the finest in the United States.

Members of the Tech golf team now work out in a state-of-the-art weight room in Cassell Coliseum

9,847-seat Cassell Coliseum hosts basketball games and other sporting events.

ACADEMIC SUPPORT

Finding a balance between academic accomplishments and athletic success is the focus for Coach Jay Hardwick's golf program at Virginia Tech, and Student Athlete Academic Support Services takes a very personal role in the supervision and support of all student-athletes. The advising office continuously engages with other campus agencies to help student-athletes in their continuing pursuit of academic achievement.

Student Athlete Academic Support Services (SAASS) provides programming for student-athletes from their freshman year through graduation. This includes a comprehensive orientation to Tech, study hall, mentoring, tutoring, academic monitoring, academic recognition and eligibility education.

The Virginia Tech graduation rate for student-athletes has remained quite high in recent years and was 73 percent in 2013. Additionally, more than 90 percent of Tech's student-athletes who have completed their eligibility have graduated.

In addition to posting impressive graduation figures, Virginia Tech's student-athletes continue to excel in the classroom. For the 2013 calendar year, 533 3.0 GPAs were earned by student-athletes, student trainers, student managers, cheerleaders and HighTechs. These student-athletes and students from support areas were recognized at the Athletic Director's Honors Breakfast last spring.

The SAASS office has been especially beneficial to the golf team, which consistently posts grade point averages among the best of any athletic team at Tech. The past two seasons the team has been recognized by the NCAA for a perfect Academic Progress Rate, and has been named an All-Academic Team by Farmer's Insurance and the GCAA. During Hardwick's years, the graduation rate for golfers who have completed their eligibility at Tech is 99 percent.

The golf team has received many accolades for their work in the classroom in recent years. In 2009, Drew Weaver was selected as the Outstanding Male Student-Athlete at Virginia Tech by the ACC, the second consecutive year this honor went to a member of the golf team, following Jurrian van der Vaart's recognition in 2008. In 2013, Bryce Chalkley became the sixth player in the team's history to be named an All-American Scholar by the GCAA. Last season, Chalkley, Maclain Huge and Scott Vincent were named to the All-ACC Academic Men's Golf Team. This marked the third time Chalkley has been named to the team and the second year Vincent has been selected. Jacob Everts and Miles Curley joined Chalkley, Huge and Vincent in being named to the ACC Academic Honor Roll in 2013 as well.

In the summer of 2006, SAASS moved its offices to the new expansion of the West Side of Lane Stadium. Here, student-athletes have access to state-of-the-art technology, quiet study facilities, individualized tutorial rooms, and direct access to the SAASS staff. This complex is the focal point for the Athletics Department, both aesthetically and pragmatically, and provides a centralized place for student athlete services.

The 18,000-square-foot facility features 10 staff offices, 18 private tutor rooms, a state-of-the-art classroom, a 45-station computer lab, three reading/study rooms, a conference room and a reference library.

Together, these spaces provide the student athlete with a variety of study environments conducive to their success. Athletes can use these facilities between classes, after practice or in the evenings, with flexible hours tailored to make the most of a student athlete's limited time.

The Student Athlete Academic Support Services office is comprised of a team of ten professionals directed by Jermaine Holmes. Holmes is in his fifth year in this position and is quite familiar with Virginia Tech; he is a former Hokie football player and previously served as the Director of Student Life. Holmes returned to Tech from Ohio State and is responsible for the overall development and leadership of the SAASS program. Holmes works directly with the golf team.

The golf team is leading the way with excellence. With the guidance and support of the SAASS, it is not difficult to see why.

Bryce Chalkley was named a GCAA All American Scholar in 2013.

HOKIES IN THE COMMUNITY

The Hokie golf team has always been a valuable member of the Virginia Tech community, volunteering its time to help others on several occasions throughout the year. Among other events the past few seasons, the team took a day away from the course to visit the Shriners Hospital for Children in Greenville, S.C.

The visit, arranged through the Virginia Tech Athletics Department's Office of Student Life, was an opportunity for the team to "give back" to the community.

The Hokies took posters of the team, Virginia Tech mini-basketball hoops, brochures and Hokie Kids Club T-shirts for every child at the hospital. They visited each room, spending time with many of the children who come to the hospital for daily treatments. In all, the team members interacted with more than 100 kids, talking and playing games, even using their own putters to teach the kids how to putt.

"Spending time in the hospital is hard, especially when you are a kid," said Melissa Bayles, Public Relations Specialist for the Shriners Hospitals for Children-Greenville. "When the Virginia Tech Golf Team comes to Shriners Hospitals for Children, they do more than just complete a community service project; they bring smiles and happiness to our patients. Even if just for a few minutes, they help the kids forget about their pain. As an employee, it is touching to see how well the golfers interact with our patients. They aren't afraid to get close to the kids, even visiting the ones in isolation. For those patients, the memory of the team's visit will last a lifetime. We hope the Virginia Tech Golf Team will continue to make their visit to the Greenville Shriners Hospital an annual event."

The golf team, as do all Virginia Tech athletics teams, spends countless hours enriching the lives of other members of the community, on campus, in Blacksburg and around the region. For more information, please contact the Office of Student Life.

PETE DYE RIVER COURSE OF VIRGINIA TECH

Hokies' World-Class Facility Continues to be Ranked in the Top 20 of Golf Week's Best Campus Courses

Renowned golf architect Pete Dye began a renovation of The River Course of Virginia Tech in 2004. With the facility's completion, the Pete Dye River Course of Virginia Tech has become a beautiful reality. Opening in August 2005, the course was selected by Golf Digest as one of the Top 5 "Best Newly Remodeled Courses in America" for 2006. In September 2013, the course was selected 14th on the list of Golfweek's Best Campus Courses.

The Pete Dye River Course continues building its reputation as a championship destination and has already hosted several prestigious events, including the 2011 NCAA Division I Men's Golf East Regional, the 2011 Virginias-Carolinas Women's Team Matches and the 2012 Mid-Atlantic Junior Invitational. Because of the rave reviews the facility has received following these events, it has already been selected to host the 2016 VSGA Amateur Championship.

"This world-class golf course, coupled with our magnificent clubhouse, is an exciting and challenging venue for the top golfers at all levels," said Jay Hardwick, director of golf operations at Virginia Tech and head golf coach.

It was included in Golf Digest's "Best Places to Play" for 2008-2009 as a coveted 4 1/2 Star Facility. This rating was the highest awarded in Virginia, Kentucky, West Virginia and Tennessee and was also shared with The Homestead's Cascades Course, The Meadows Course at the Greenbrier, Kingsmill's River Course, and Pinehurst Resort Courses #4, 6, 7 & 8. "The River" was also named as one of the "100 Middle Atlantic Must-Play Courses for 2008."

In addition to the renovation, a turf care center was constructed, as well as the Virginia Tech Golf Team Complex, which houses an indoor teaching center that opens to the outside range and is equipped with the latest video swing analysis system. This facility also includes locker rooms, club repair room, players' lounge, a recruit welcome area and team meeting room for the Virginia Tech golf team. A covered tee area, which is enclosed on three sides, is located at the back of the practice range and is equipped with fans, radiant heaters and lights.

These improvements were made possible by support from Bill and Alice Goodwin of Richmond, Va. Mr. Goodwin, a Virginia Tech alumnus, is an avid golfer who wanted to provide the Virginia Tech golf team and the university community an opportunity to play on a world-caliber championship course. The gift covered all costs of design and construction.

The challenging par-five third hole is as intimidating as it is beautiful.

The indoor facility was constructed adjacent to the state-of-the-art golf team practice area, which was made possible through the generosity of long-time golf team supporter and scholarship donor, the late C.M. "Buddy" Neviaser, and his late wife, Doris. This facility provides Tech players with one of the finest total practice complexes in the nation. The facility was officially dedicated in September 2004.

The dedication of a $5.5 million clubhouse at the Pete Dye River Course of Virginia Tech took place in October 2010. The Harry S. and Patsy B. Williams Clubhouse is named in honor of the late Harry S. and late Patsy B. Williams, long-time supporters of Virginia Tech athletics and academics. Harry Williams graduated from Virginia Tech in 1955. Construction on the clubhouse was completed in May 2010 and the views of the golf course from the 4,000 square feet deck surrounding it are breathtaking. The new facility consists of a spacious golf shop, multi-purpose conference room, men's and ladies' locker rooms, and the Hackin' Hokie Grille.

Pete Dye is noted as one of the finest golf course architects in the world. The Indiana native has worked with the Goodwins in the past, most notably on the Ocean Course at Kiawah Island, host of the 1994 Ryder Cup. He has also designed The Tournament Players Club at Sawgrass, Ponte Vedra Beach, Fla.; the PGA West Stadium Course in La Quinta, Calif.; Brickyard Crossing Golf Course in Indianapolis, Ind.; Crooked Stick Golf Club in Carmel, Ind.; Harbour Town Golf Links and The Colleton River Dye Course in Hilton Head, S.C.; and the Honors Course in Chattanooga, Tenn.

Dye is known for enhancing the existing landscape and working within the natural beauty of the area. He used all of the natural attributes of the previous course, including the New River, with its adjoining rock formations and natural trees and vegetation.

"This is a tremendous benefit for Virginia Tech, our golf program, the membership and the golfing community," Hardwick said. "We are indeed fortunate to have a Pete Dye signature golf course, named after one of the most renowned and respected golf course architects of all time."

The project allows for play by all residents of the New River Valley community, as the course is open to the public for daily play. Club members, daily fee golfers, visitors, faculty, staff and students of Virginia Tech and all others are afforded access to one of the finest golf courses in the nation. The nationally ranked layout, which complements the natural beauty of the area and the adjacent New River, allows for future economic growth. The course was designed to become a destination for golfers looking to play on the finest courses and a site for future tournaments and championship events.

The Pete Dye River Course of Virginia Tech has done for Hokie golf what Lane Stadium/Worsham Field did for Virginia Tech football. It is simply "The Best."

World-renowned architect Pete Dye describes the course renovations taking place in 2004 to the Tech golf team.

The picturesque par-three No. 7 is the shortest, but one of the most demanding holes on the course.

From its perch high on a bluff, the clubhouse provides beautiful views of the New River and the Pete Dye River Course of Virginia Tech.

The fantastic clubhouse at the Pete Dye River Course of Virginia Tech has a full service restaurant, a banquet area and a well-stocked pro shop.

HOKIES' HOME COURSES

In addition to the Pete Dye River Course of Virginia Tech, the Hokie golf team also enjoys the use of the Virginia Tech Golf Course and Blacksburg Country Club.

Blacksburg Country Club, former site of the Virginia State Amateur and Virginia State Open Championships, has also hosted the VSGA Junior Boys Championship in 1986, 1994, 2003, and 2008, as well as the 1988 VSGA Junior Girls Championship.

"We very much appreciate the outstanding support we have received from the staff and members of Blacksburg Country Club in allowing our team the use of their fine golf course," Tech coach Jay Hardwick said.

The nine-hole Virginia Tech Golf Course, known for some of the finest greens in the state, is located on campus. In addition, a short game and wedge area complete with a chipping and putting green has been built and its location is a benefit to the Hokies for playing and practicing.

"The opportunity to have the use of many outstanding golf courses is a great asset to our program," Hardwick said. "All three courses are always in superb condition and are well known for their fine bent grass greens."

Virginia Tech's golfing facilities do not stop with those three outstanding layouts. The Hokies are extended playing privileges at nearby Olde Mill Golf Club in Laurel Fork, Draper Valley Golf Club in Pulaski and Hanging Rock Golf Club in Salem.

The 12th hole at Blacksburg Country Club is rated one of the top holes in Southwest Virginia.

Olde Mill Golf Club at Groundhog Mountain offers golfers a unique challenge of tree-lined mountainous fairways winding through 55 acres of lakes and streams.

The Pete Dye River Course of Virginia Tech features 2.5 miles of shoreline along the scenic and historic New River.

2012-2013 REVIEW

Hokies extend NCAA streak to seven years

Throughout the season, Virginia Tech remained among the top 35 teams in the nation and was selected to the NCAA Pullman Regional at Palouse Ridge Golf Club in Pullman, Wash. This was the Hokies' seventh straight appearance and the 11th time in the last 13 years that Tech has participated in postseason play. In the regional format five teams from each site qualify for the NCAA Finals. Entering the last round in seventh place, the Hokies posted a final round 296 and failed to advance by five strokes. Virginia Tech played 10 tournaments during the regular season and finished fourth or better in eight events, including victories at the Marshall Invitational, VCU Shootout and Furman Intercollegiate. The team's stroke average improved by more than two shots from last season to 288.2, and the players had 90 rounds of par-or-better, up from 83 for the 2011-12 season and 75 two years ago.

The lone senior, Mikey Moyers, was named the team's Co-Player of the Year and had some outstanding finishes to end a stellar career with the Hokies. He equaled his career-best finish with a runner-up performance at the ACC Championship following rounds of 68-68-70=206, and added a third place finish at Furman and fifth place finishes at VCU and Puerto Rico during the season. For the year, Moyers was second on the team in scoring with a 72.0 average and second in rounds at par-or-better with 21. He ended his four years in third place on the All-Time Career Scoring list with a 73.07 average. As a testament to his fine play this season, he was named to the All-ACC Men's Golf Team, the Division I All-East Region Team and the Virginia Collegiate All-State First Team.

Junior Bryce Chalkley's score counted for the team an impressive 32 of 35 rounds this season. He posted a 73.0 scoring average, including 16 rounds at par-or-better, and had a career-best fourth place finish at Furman. Bryce was recognized for his accomplishments on the golf course and in the classroom, becoming the sixth player in the program's history to be named an All-American Scholar by the Golf Coaches Association of America. He was also selected to the All-ACC Academic Team for the third consecutive season and named to the Virginia Collegiate All-State Second Team.

Sophomore Scott Vincent was named the team's Co-Player of the Year with Moyers following an outstanding season. He led the team in multiple categories, including a 71.6 scoring average and 22 rounds at par-or-better. Vincent won the team's Most Improved Player award and "Crunch Time" award with a 71.9 final round average. He posted five Top 5 finishes and three additional Top 10 finishes in 11 events and moved ahead of Brendon de Jonge on the team's All-Time Career Scoring list with a 72.54 average. Scott was also named to the All-ACC Men's Golf Team, the Division I All-East Region Team, the Virginia Collegiate All-State First Team and the All-ACC Academic Team. Sophomore Trevor Cone had six Top 10 finishes in 12 events, including a career-best runner-up performance at the Navy Invitational and a tenth place finish at the ACC Championship. He was fourth on the team in scoring with a 73.3 average, posted 17 rounds at par-or-better, and ended the year in fifth place on the All-Time Career Scoring list. Trevor was also named to the Virginia Collegiate All-State Second Team.

The team's Rookie of the Year, freshman Maclain Huge, emerged as one of the team leaders during the postseason and he also competed in every event this season. In addition to a 10th place finish at ACC Championship and an 11th place finish at the NCAA Regional, he posted Top 20 finishes at the VCU Shootout and Marshall Invitational, which included a career-low 66 in the second round. Maclain was also named to the All-ACC Academic Team and the team's Most Dedicated Player for the season.

Maclain Huge made his first NCAA appearance and tied for 11th place in the Pullman Regional.

THE ATLANTIC COAST CONFERENCE

Virginia Tech is in its 10th season as a proud member of the Atlantic Coast Conference. Arguably the best conference in collegiate golf, the ACC offers the Hokies a grand platform in their quest to become one of the nation's elite programs. The Hokies won the 2007 ACC Golf Championship, their first since joining the league in 2004.

The Tradition

Consistency is the mark of true excellence in any endeavor. In today's intercollegiate athletics, however, competition has become so balanced and so competitive that it is virtually impossible to maintain a high level of consistency.

Yet the Atlantic Coast Conference has defied the odds. Now in its 61st year of competition, the ACC has long enjoyed the reputation as one of the strongest and most competitive intercollegiate conferences in the nation. And that is not mere conjecture, the numbers support it. Since the league's inception in 1953, ACC schools have captured 131 national championships, including 69 in women's competition and 62 in men's. In addition, NCAA individual titles have gone to ACC student-athletes 150 times in men's competition and 106 times in women's action.

The Atlantic Coast Conference will hold its annual Men's Golf Championship April 25-27 at the Old North State Club at Uwharrie Point in Baden Lake, N.C. The winner of the event will earn an automatic bid into the NCAA Division I Golf Championship.

Virginia Tech captured the ACC Golf Championship at the Old North State Club on April 22, 2007.

HACKIN' HOKIES

Thirty years ago, a small group of Virginia Tech supporters traveled to the Metro Conference Championship at Wild Dunes Golf Links on the Isle of Palms, S.C., in a show of support for the Tech golf team. A great friendship developed between this group and the players. As a result, these supporters were affectionately tagged the "Hackin' Hokies."

Today, this group, totaling over 100 members, travels annually with the team, and has been the major supporter of the Virginia Tech golf program.

The Virginia Tech golf team wishes to express its sincere appreciation to the "Hackin' Hokies" for their loyal support. As a token of its appreciation, the team recognizes a member of the "Hackin' Hokies" each year with the team's Appreciation Award. The recipient of the 2013 award was David Everett. Past recipients include: Chuck Eaton in 2012; Lee Barksdale in 2011; Bill Stover in 2010; John Clary and the late Marvin Crutchfield in 2009; Larry Perry in 2008; the late Bob Wolfe in 2007; Jeff Howard in 2006; Glenn Reynolds in 2005; O.A. Spady in 2004; Charlie Holden in 2003; the late Bud Keever in 2002; the late Buddy Nevaier in 2001; Scott Prince in 2000; the late Howard Stanton in 1999; Ellis Monroe in 1998; Bill Sterrett in 1997; Ray Edwards in 1996; the late Jack Lester in 1995; Danny Hardy in 1994; George Freeman in 1993; the late Shannon Hardwick in 1992; the late Joe Thomas in 1991; John Moody and the late Jack Prater in 1990; the late Ken Brugh in 1989; and Jim Mensh in 1988.

HOKIE GOLF HISTORY

The history of the Virginia Tech golf team dates to 1932-33. The Techmen have had success since the very beginning, with their first victory coming on April 23, 1933, defeating Roanoke College, 10-2.

The Hokies continued to improve during the early years and made their first NCAA Championship appearance in 1957 at Colorado Springs, Colo. In 1962, Tech returned to the NCAA tournament and placed 26th at Duke University Golf Course in Durham, N.C.

Tech was a more dominant force in 1965, as the team tied for 11th at the NCAA Championship in Knoxville, Tenn. The late Tim Collins finished in seventh place individually in that event, then went on to finish 20th the following year and in fifth place in the 1967 tournament, the best ever individual performance for a Virginia Tech golfer in the NCAA Championship. The Hokies had their best ever team result that year as well, finishing sixth. Collins earned All-America status in 1965 and 1967, and was inducted into the Virginia Tech Sports Hall of Fame in 1985. From 1968 to 1971, Tech sent four representatives (one each year) to the NCAA Championship.

Also a standout in the mid-1960s, and a teammate of Collins, was Neff McClary. In 1965, he won the Southern Conference individual championship and helped pace the Hokies to three straight Virginia State Intercollegiate championships in 1965, 1966 and 1967. Between 1960 and 1995, Tech won this prestigious event 17 times. McClary was inducted into the Tech Hall of Fame in 1994 and Connie Sellers, the co-captain of the 1951 team and winner of the Virginia State Amateur that same year, was inducted in 1996. Current associate head coach Brian Sharp, the only Tech golfer to be both a four-time all-conference selection and a four-time first-team all-state honoree, was inducted in 2009. All-American and three-time PGA Tour winner, Johnson Wagner, was inducted in 2013.

The Hokies have returned to NCAA Championship action numerous times in recent years, beginning in 1994 when they placed eighth in the East Regional and 19th in the NCAA Championship in McKinney, Tex. Sharp received an individual bid the following year to the NCAA East Regional at Yale University Golf Club, finishing in eighth place. The 2001 team, one of the most successful in school history, tied for fifth at the East Regional in Williamsburg, Va., and placed eighth in the NCAA Championship in Durham, N.C. Tech followed up that season with an eighth place finish in the 2002 NCAA Central Regional in Little Rock, Ark., and 20th at the NCAA Championship in Columbus, Ohio. In 2003 the Hokies finished 19th at the 2003 East Regional in Auburn, Ala., and in 2004 Ryan Stinnett competed as an individual in the East Regional, also contested at Yale University Golf Club.

HISTORY continued

Virginia Tech received a bid to the NCAA East Regional in 2007, finishing 12th at the Golf Club of Georgia, located just outside of Atlanta. The following year, the Hokies competed in the East Regional in Chattanooga, Tenn., finishing in 15th place. Jurrian van der Vaart advanced through this regional by virtue of his sixth place individual finish, then went on to place ninth at the NCAA Championship at Purdue. This marked the third-best NCAA Championship finish for an individual in Virginia Tech history, trailing only Collins' performances in the 1960's. In 2009 the team earned a regional bid and finished 12th in the Southwest Regional in Austin, Texas. The Hokies received their fourth consecutive bid in 2010, to the Central Regional in South Bend, Ind. Although the team finished in 10th place, Marshall Bailey finished sixth individually and earned his way into the NCAA Finals by winning a playoff for the lone individual spot.

In 2011 the Hokies were again selected to compete in the East Regional, which they hosted at the Pete Dye River Course of Virginia Tech. The team finished sixth, three strokes short of advancing. Virginia Tech competed in the South Central Regional in Bowling Green, Ky., in 2012 and advanced to the NCAA Finals by virtue of its fourth place finish. The Hokies finished 24th in the national championship, contested at historic Riviera Country Club in Pacific Palisades, Calif. In 2013 the team was selected to compete in the NCAA Pullman Regional at Palouse Ridge Golf Club in Pullman, Wash., and finished in 10th place.

Tech has won its conference title many times over the years. The Hokies won the Southern Conference Tournament in 1961, '62, '63, and '65. The Techmen earned the championship trophy from the Metro Conference in 1993, a feat they repeated in 1994. After entering the Atlantic 10 Conference in 1996, Virginia Tech wasted little time in making its presence felt, winning back-to-back titles in 1996 and 1997. Although its conference affiliation changed again at the beginning of the 2000-01 academic year, the result for the golf team remained the same, as the Hokies won the 2001 BIG EAST Conference Golf Championship. They successfully defended their title in 2002 and 2003. The Hokies also claimed the 2007 ACC Golf Championship, their eighth conference crown in a fourth different league over a 15-year span.

In addition to McClary, the Hokies have had six other individual champions in three conferences since 1995. Sharp won that season's Metro Conference Championship and Brad Hyler won the 1997 Atlantic 10 Championship. Tech golfers dominated during their time in the BIG EAST, producing the champion all four years the school was a member of the conference. Brian Krusoe won the title in 2001, Johnson Wagner in 2002, Brendon de Jonge in 2003 and Ryan Stinnett made it four-for-four in the BIG EAST when he won the 2004 title.

Tech players have received numerous individual postseason honors throughout the years. Most notably, in addition to Collins' All-American seasons, the Hokies had two players named as All-Americans in the same year in 2002, when de Jonge was named to the second team and Wagner was named to the third team. In 2003 de Jonge repeated this honor, and van der Vaart and Drew Weaver were named third-team All-Americans in 2008 and 2009, respectively. Nine Virginia Tech players have been named to the All-Region team. Sharp was named to the team in 1994 and 1995, while Curtis Deal received the honor in 1997. Wagner and de Jonge were selected in 2002 and de Jonge was named again in 2003. Van der Vaart earned this honor in 2008 and Weaver was named to the team in 2009. In 2012 Trevor Cone became the first Virginia Tech freshman to receive this distinction, and in 2013 both Mikey Moyers and Scott Vincent were named to the team. Five Hokies have also been recognized as the Virginia Collegiate Player of the Year; de Jonge in 2002 and 2003; Stinnett in 2004; van der Vaart in 2008; Weaver in 2009; and Vincent in 2013.

Another outstanding individual accomplishment for a Virginia Tech golfer came in the summer of 2007, when Weaver won the British Amateur. By virtue of winning this historic championship, he competed in the 2007 British Open and received an invitation to the 2008 Masters Tournament, golf's most prestigious event. Weaver was also a member of the victorious Team USA in the 2009 Walker Cup.

Since the beginning, the Tech squad has had 41 winning seasons and 34 consecutive winning seasons. Winning is the name of the Hokies' game.

Jurrian van der Vaart, a 2008 All-American, finished ninth at the NCAA Championship.

Drew Weaver, the 2007 British Amateur champion, earned All-America honors in 2009.

HOKIES ON THE PGA TOUR

Two of Virginia Tech's all-time scoring leaders, All-Americans Brendon de Jonge (right) and Johnson Wagner pose with Coach Jay Hardwick for the cover of the 2001 Virginia Tech Golf Media Guide.

Former Hokies and close friends Johnson Wagner and Brendon de Jonge competed on the PGA Tour once again in 2013. Wagner, a three-time winner on Tour, has now earned nearly $8 million in seven full seasons. His 2013 campaign included four Top 25 finishes, highlighted by a runner-up finish at the Greenbrier Classic, where many Hokies were in attendance to cheer him on. For the year, he made nine cuts in 24 events and finished 104th on the money list with $801,955. Wagner is exempt on the PGA Tour through the 2014 season.

A member of the International Team for the 2013 President's Cup, de Jonge realized a childhood dream by playing for his idol and fellow countryman, team captain Nick Price. The highlight of his week was when he and partner Ernie Els beat world No. 1 Tiger Woods and Matt Kuchar in their foursomes match. He had another solid PGA Tour season last year, once again leading the Tour in total birdies and par-5 scoring. De Jonge made 25 cuts in 30 events and posted 13 Top 25 finishes, earning nearly $1.8 million to rank 42nd on the money list. By virtue of advancing to the Tour Championship, de Jonge will make his debut at The Masters in the spring and will once again be fully exempt on Tour in 2014.
