2010 OUTLOOK 2011

With a roster full of experienced players, depth is the greatest asset for the Virginia Tech men's tennis team this spring. The 2010-11 edition of the Hokies looks to build upon four-consecutive NCAA Tournament appearances with a talented and very deep lineup. Tech ended last season with a 16-8 record and a No. 24 national ranking, the highest final ranking in the history of the program. The Hokies were also ranked second in the tough Atlantic Region. Tech will have to replace senior Yoann Re, a two-time All-ACC selection, who concluded last season ranked No. 58 in the nation and No. 6 in the Atlantic Region. Re also was a participant in the NCAA Singles Championships for the second consecutive year and defeated five nationally ranked opponents last season. He ended his Tech career with 82 singles and 72 doubles victories.

This year's team, No. 24 in the Intercollegiate Tennis Association preseason national rankings which is the highest preseason ranking in program history, will feature three seniors, five juniors, three sophomores and two freshmen. Depth is always a key in the tough Atlantic Coast Conference and the success of this season's team will depend heavily on the continued progress of the underclassmen.

"This team has great potential, as we only lost one player from last year and we gain Pedro Graber back after a redshirt year," said Virginia Tech head coach Jim Thompson. "While we will certainly miss Yoann Re this year, I feel this team has the experience and the hunger to go further than any team in the history of the program.

Senior Will Beck contributed 26 singles wins last season.

"We need to play well on the road, as we have several tough tests early in the season. I look for the upperclassmen to really step up and contribute and lead this team.

"Certainly one of our continued goals is to advance to the NCAA Tournament, but I believe this group is shooting for much more than just making the tournament. This could be a great year for the Virginia Tech tennis program."

The Hokies will be led by junior and All-ACC performer Luka Somen (Jr., Karlovac, Croatia) who was the 2008 ACC Freshman of the Year. Somen already has over 50 career singles victories in only two seasons. This fall, he advanced to the Round of 16 at the USTA/ITA Atlantic Regional.

"Luka Somen is an outstanding talent who has been a major contributor the past two years," said Thompson. "He will be our highest returning player from last year, so we have great expectations for him. Luka has matured and gotten much stronger over the past year, and I think that will help him in the spring. He is a ferocious competitor and will bring his heart to every match."

One of the keys to the ultimate success of this year's team will be the return of Pedro Graber (r-Sr., Santiago, Chile). Graber underwent wrist surgery in the fall of 2009 and missed the entire season. He was a key fixture in the top half of the lineup during the 2008-09 season and had a solid fall including an appearance in the Round of 16 at the USTA/ITA Atlantic Regional.

"Pedro Graber is our senior leader on this team, returning after he was forced to redshirt last year. He has been unfortunate with injuries during his career in Blacksburg, but this year will be different," said Thompson. "Pedro is finally healthy and playing extremely well. I think he has the talent to really be an impact player in the ACC, and I look forward to seeing him develop and grow this season. He also will help provide us with outstanding play in the doubles as well."

One of the major contributors last year was Corrado Degl' Inceri Tocci (Jr., Reggio Emilia, Italy), who led the team with 28 singles wins. Tocci won Flight A at the D.C. Invitational and advanced into the quarterfinals of the USTA/ITA Atlantic Regional for the second consecutive season.

"Corrado is coming off a great sophomore campaign and I feel that when he plays his best, he can beat anyone," said Thompson. "He has worked to improve his game and has seen great rewards for this effort. This spring should be no different, and I expect that Corrado will play a big role in our team's ultimate success."

Patrick Daciek (Jr., Severna Park, Md.) was another major contributor last year who is expected to have an outstanding season. Daciek won 22 singles matches during the season and this past summer earned an ATP point and world ITF ranking.

"Patrick Daciek loves to compete and is one of the most explosive guys we have on the team," said Thompson. "He is strong and has worked on his flexibility this year, and I feel that will allow him to reach a higher level. Patrick has excellent speed and footwork and the potential to hit big shots from anywhere. He has been a Hokie since he was a little kid and I am pretty sure that this could be an excellent year for Patrick and the Hokies."

Sebastien Jacques (Sr., Magog, Quebec, Canada), returns for his final year following another solid season in which he won 16 singles and 18 doubles matches. Jacques defeated two nationally ranked players last spring but played in only one fall event due to injury.

"Sebastien was plagued with injuries in the fall, but I still have great confidence in him," said Thompson. "He has been tough as nails during his career, and I am pretty sure he won't let anything stand in his way to finish out his career in that same fashion. Sebastien has played No. 4-6 during his career and, if he gets healthy and can return to form, he will be extremely difficult to beat at the bottom half of the line up. He has lightning quick feet and the heart of a lion."

Will Beck (tr.-Sr., Potomac, Md.) transferred to Virginia Tech from Kentucky in the Spring of 2009 and made an immediate impact. Beck was second on the team last year with 26 singles wins and had an outstanding summer circuit. He advanced to the Round of 16 at the USTA/ITA Atlantic Regional.

"Will is poised to have an excellent senior year," said Thompson. "He has worked hard on and off the court and provides us with a very consistent performances. Will has a huge serve and most people do not realize how dangerous he can be on the returns as well. I think Will can be one of those seniors who will really provide leadership and who wants this team to finish strong."

Trpimir Kujundzic (So., Zagreb, Croatia) returns after a solid fall campaign which saw him advance to the flight semifinals of both the UVa Classic and the Crimson Tide Invitational. Last summer, Kujundzic won the UNGC ITA Summer Circuit event in Greensboro, N.C.

"Trpimir played well this fall and has really matured on and off the court," said Thompson. "He has a very solid serve and is comfortable at the net. His ground strokes are more consistent, and he possesses power off both wings. Becoming stronger physically has really helped Trpimir's game, and I feel he has shown that he has the talent to play in the ACC."

Jon Pine (Jr., Vienna, Va.) saw limited action during his last season but had a solid fall season including winning his flight at the Crimson Tide Invitational.

"Jon has really improved his level from the beginning of the school year and won his flight at the Crimson Tide Invitational," said Thompson. "He suffered a broken toe and was hindered all summer, but now that his movement is better and he is able to really push himself, he has made great strides. Jon has a powerful two-handed forehand which allows him to take over the offense. He has worked harder this year in the weight room and I think this work will pay off for him and our team this year."

Lucas Oliveira (So., Sao Paulo, Brazil) joined the team in the spring and in his only match picked up a big win in the NCAA First Round against Vanderbilt. Oliveira had six wins in the fall and was the Flight B champion at the D.C. Invitational.

"Lucas has really developed nicely from when he came to Tech last year," said Thompson. "He has gotten much stronger and improved his speed and his consistency. Lucas has an excellent work ethic! He did a great job stepping in at the NCAA's last year and I think he will have many more opportunities to show his ability this spring. I look for him to continue to gain confidence in his game and develop into a very solid player for the Hokies."

Corrado Degli' Incerti Tocci advanced to the quarterfinals of the USTA/ITA Atlantic Regional the past two seasons.

Leonardo Lapenti (So., Guayaquil, Ecuador) also joined the Tech program in the spring but did not see any action in the dual-match season. Lapenti advanced to the Round of 32 at the USTA/ITA Atlantic Regional.

"Leo has really improved his game this year and I have seen him physically change since his arrival in Blacksburg," said Thompson. "He is much stronger and has a better court presence now. After beating one of the top players in the Region at our ITA Regional Championships, I believe Leo has the chance to really make even more improvements and will certainly be a player to watch in this program."

Zach Pine (Jr., Vienna, Va.) saw limited action last season for the Hokies, but could provide some additional depth in the bottom half of lineup.

"Zach is one of those guys that continues to improve," said Thompson. "He has become more consistent with all areas of his game and especially his net play. Zach can hit with anyone in the country and I hope that he will continue to work even harder to take his game to an even higher level. The potential is there for a special year for Zach and the Hokies."

Freshman Adam Lawton (Madrid, Spain) will battle for a spot in the lineup and add depth to the doubles lineup. He paired with Jon Pine to win the Red Doubles Flight at the UVa Classic.

"Adam will be a player who develops in this program," said Thompson. "He has big weapons and a great drive to be successful. Adam has a great work ethic and a big frame on which to build. As he improves on some areas of his game, he will become harder and harder to beat."

Kevin Castellow (Fr., Burke, Va.) did not see action in the fall as he continues to develop his talents towards the collegiate game.

"Kevin Castellow is more than likely going to redshirt this year," said Thompson. "He has very strong groundstrokes and has really worked to improve his serve. Kevin works hard in the weight room and improvement has already started to show in his game. He enjoys competing and, with that mentality, he will most certainly help us every day."

Once again, the Hokies will face a very difficult dual-match schedule in the spring, featuring 16 teams ranked in the final Top-75 poll at the end of the 2009-10 season. The Atlantic Coast Conference, featuring ten nationally-ranked teams last year, will prove to be a tremendous challenge for Tech this season. In fact, seven of the 12 ACC schools were selected to compete in the 2010 NCAA Men's Tennis Team Championship.

The dual-match season opens with the Hokies hosting Eastern Kentucky and Longwood on Jan. 22, before participating in the ITA National Team Indoor Championships. The first and second rounds will be held Jan. 29-30, with the Hokies facing Pepperdine in the Durham, N.C., Regional. Duke will host Michigan in the other first round match. The February home slate will include matches against James Madison, St. Bonaventure, Penn State, Brown and Boston College. In March, the Hokies will host Louisville in their only home contest of the month and then conclude the home schedule in April with matches versus North Carolina, Florida State, Georgia Tech and Clemson. Tech was 9-3 at the Burrows-Burleson Tennis Center last year and has a 91-27 (.771) record at home in the last decade.

The Hokies will face road matches against Minnesota, Boise State (in Minneapolis, Minn.), Virginia, Maryland, Virginia Commonwealth, Miami, Florida State, NC State and Wake Forest. The ACC Championships will be held April 21-24 in Cary, N.C.

"I am very excited about our schedule this year. With the ACC once again loaded with good teams, we are excited about those challenges," said Thompson. "Our out-of-conference schedule is also loaded with top teams starting with the Kick Off weekend where we play Pepperdine and we are in the same group with Duke and Michigan. Playing this type of competition every time out makes us better and hopefully will prepare us for a March 4 rematch with top-15 ranked Louisville, who we lost to in the NCAA Championships. After that match we have all ranked teams for the rest of the season including the ACC tournament and the NCAA Tournament. What more could you ask for in terms of playing great competition?"

JIM THOMPSON

HEAD COACH

Virginia Tech head coach Jim Thompson has known nothing but success during his coaching career. Thompson, in his 13th year at Tech, has led the Hokies to the NCAA Tournament seven times, including the last four seasons. In his first season, Thompson's Hokies advanced to the NCAA Sweet Sixteen for the first time in school history, and recorded a 22-7 worksheet.

The 2010 season was Tech's sixth year in the Atlantic Coast Conference and the Hokies battled their way through a rugged national schedule featuring 18 matches against ranked opposition. Tech ended the season with a No. 24 national ranking after advancing to the NCAA Second Round. Thompson's success during his tenure in Blacksburg includes a record of 190-122 and seven NCAA Tournament appearances.

Thompson, the 2010 Atlantic Region Coach of the Year, has received several regional and national honors during his tenure. In Dec., 2009, he was one of 10 sectional winners of USTA/ITA Community Outreach Award for the Mid-Atlantic Section. Thompson previously was named the 2003 Northeast Region Coach of the Year as well as the 2003 BIG EAST Conference Coach of the Year. In 2000, he was selected to coach the Mid-Atlantic team in the Junior Davis Cup Competition.

In addition to his coaching responsibilities, Thompson has served on the ITA Rules Committee and has been a member of the ITA Operating Committee. Currently, Thompson serves as the Chairman of the ITA Atlantic Region.

Thompson joined the Hokies after spending four years as the director of tennis and head coach for both the men's and women's programs at the University of Tennessee at Chattanooga. He guided the UTC women's team to the Southern Conference Championship in 1997 and was named coach of the year. In 1998, he led the men's team to the conference championship.

During a four-year stint as the head women's coach at Anderson College in South Carolina, Thompson built a nationally recognized program which climbed as high as third in the nation. He was named Region X Coach of the Year in 1991, 1993 and 1994.

Prior to his time at Anderson, Thompson served as the assistant women's coach at the University of Alabama at Tuscaloosa. Working under Karen Gaiser, Thompson gained his first experience with managing a nationally recognized tennis program.

Before entering coaching, Thompson competed successfully and earned ATP points on the professional circuit throughout the United States, Europe, Australia and North Africa.

As a collegiate player, Thompson held the number one position on the Davidson College men's tennis team from 1986 to 1988 and was captain in 1987 and 1988. In 1987, he won the Southern Conference Indoor Championships and was twice awarded the Southern Conference Sportsmanship award. During the summer of 1987, Thompson won the USTA National Championships in Augusta, Ga., in both singles and doubles and finished runner-up in the National Championships in Virginia Beach, Va. Thompson's success as a player continued after college as he achieved a Southern No. 2 sectional ranking in 1993 in the 25-and-over age division.

Thompson has been married for 14 years to his wife B'easy and they have a 13-year-old daughter, Sophia, an 8-year-old son, Frank, and a 5-year-old daughter, Ginsey.

CHRISTOPHE BONADONA

ASSISTANT COACH

Christophe Bonadona is in his second year as assistant coach. Bonadona came to Virginia Tech from Van Der Meer Tennis Academy in Hilton Head, S.C., where he served for two years as a teaching professional. While at Van Der Meer, he instructed and coached elite players during their daily practices and handled travel arrangements to various tournaments. Bonadona was responsible for the design of the strength and conditioning programs at the academy.

Prior to the Van Der Meer Academy, Bonadona completed a 2006 tournament management internship at the Campbell's Hall of Fame Tennis Championships in Newport, R.I. His internship responsibilities included management of player relations, accommodations, hospitality and transportation. Additionally the internship included serving as a liaison with sponsor representatives as well as the management of volunteers, junior clinics and product acquisition.

The 25-year old Bonadona served as a sports marketing intern in 2010 for Nike in Beaverton, Ore., where he supported many facets of emerging markets marketing and strategic planning.

Bonadona is a 2007 graduate of Webber International University in Babson, Fla., with a bachelor of science degree in sport management and a marketing minor.

"I am thrilled to have someone like Christophe on our coaching staff," said Virginia Tech men's tennis coach Jim Thompson.

"Christophe has had the opportunity to work beside two of the best in the tennis business in Pat and Dennis Van Der Meer, and I am certain that, with his vast experience, he will be a great coach here at Virginia Tech. He has shown great discipline and leadership skills and it is great to have him as a part of our program."

TOMMY McDONALD

VOLUNTEER ASSISTANT COACH

Tommy McDonald joined the Virginia Tech men's tennis staff two years ago as a volunteer assistant coach. McDonald comes to the Hokies after serving for seven years as the men's and women's tennis coach at Arkansas-Little Rock.

McDonald is no stranger to the Tech men's tennis program. He was an assistant at Virginia Tech for three seasons and helped the Hokies to the NCAA "Sweet Sixteen" in 1999 and to Atlantic 10 Conference titles in 1999 and 2000. Prior to Virginia Tech, McDonald spent two years on the International Tennis Federation's ATP professional tour, competing throughout the U.S., Europe and Australia.

In seven seasons at UALR, McDonald built the Trojans into one of the most improved programs in the nation. After taking over a men's team coming off a 9-13 season, he guided the program to a 18-6 record and a No. 70 national ranking. The women's team improved from 13-12 to 17-11 during his first season.

McDonald compiled a 119-66 record with the men's team and a 117-47 mark with the women during his tenure. At UALR, he coached 10 nationally ranked players including Mariano Pettigrosso, who achieved a national ranking of No. 28, the highest ranking in the history of the program.

For his seven seasons at the helm of the tennis programs, McDonald's teams had a 100 percent graduation rate for athletes who had exhausted their eligibility. The UALR men's team was named an ITA All-Academic Team in six of McDonald's seven years while his women's team achieved the honor on five occasions. He had a total of 47 student-athletes named as ITA Scholar Athletes.

McDonald is currently employed by Davenport & Co. Investment Firm. He has been married to his wife, Roseann, for 12 years and they have an 8-year-old daughter, Savannah Jane, and a 5-year-old son, Charles Thomas.

SEBASTIEN JACQUES

SR. • 5-11 • 160 • RH
MAGOG, QUEBEC, CANADA

Thompson on Jacques: "Sebastien Jacques has been plagued with injuries this season, but I still have great confidence in him. He has been tough as nails during his career, and I am pretty sure he won't let anything stand in his way to finish out his career in that same fashion. Sebastien has played No. 4-6 during his career and, if he gets healthy and can return to form, he will be extremely difficult to beat at the bottom half of the line up. He has lightning quick feet and the heart of a lion."

2009-2010 REVIEW

HOKIES MAKE FOURTH CONSECUTIVE TRIP TO THE NCAA TOURNAMENT

The men's tennis program produced another very successful season as the Hokies made their fourth-consecutive appearance in the NCAA Tournament. Tech, which was ranked as high as No. 16 during the season, ended the year ranked No. 24, the highest end-of-the-season ranking in the program's history. Tech concluded the year with a 16-8 record despite having faced 19 nationally ranked opponents in its 23 total matches.

Senior Yoann Re had an outstanding final year playing at the top of lineup. Re, a two-time All-ACC selection, concluded the year ranked No. 58 in the final Intercollegiate Tennis Association (ITA) national rankings and No. 6 in the Mideast Region. Re was also a participant in the NCAA Singles Championships for the second-consecutive year and finished with 18 singles victories, including five over nationally ranked opponents. He concluded his Tech career with 82 singles and 72 doubles victories.

Luka Somen followed up his ACC Freshman of the Year season with a solid sophomore campaign. Somen was ranked No. 74 nationally and No. 7 in the Atlantic Region at the end of the season. He posted a 25-10 singles record, including wins over 11 nationally ranked players at the No. 2 position. Somen teamed with Corrado Degl'Incerti Tocci to register an outstanding 27-9 doubles record and an 11-0 mark in ACC regular season dual matches.

Tocci led the team with 28 singles victories, playing mainly in the No. 3 position while recording 27 doubles wins.

After transferring from Kentucky, Will Beck made a positive contribution with 26 singles victories, including a 7-4 ACC record.

Patrick Daciek had a solid sophomore season, posting a 16-8 dual match singles record with six wins occurring in ACC play.

The Hokies' 2009-10 season performance was even more impressive due to the loss of Pedro Graber who missed the entire season due to a wrist injury. Graber recorded double-digit singles victories in each of his first three seasons.

Once again, Tech tennis players displayed their diligence in the classroom as Beck, Graber, Sebastien Jacques, Trpimir Kujundzic, Zack Pine, Somen and Tocci and were all named to the ACC Academic Honor Roll. Additionally, Jacques, Somen and Tocci were selected to the ACC Men's Tennis All-Academic team; and Graber, Leonardo Lapentti, Lucas Oliveira, Somen and Tocci were named ITA Scholar-Athletes.

WE ARE VIRGINIA TECH

From its humble beginning in 1872 with 132 students and two programs of study, Virginia Polytechnic Institute and State University, popularly known as Virginia Tech, has evolved into a comprehensive university of national and international prominence. With nearly 28,450 students in Blacksburg and about 2,500 other students statewide, the university produces world-class scholarship in a challenging academic environment. University tradition is firmly rooted in its motto, Ut Prosim (That I May Serve), and its historic land-grant mission is brought to life through learning, discovery and engagement.

More degree programs – approximately 210 graduate and undergraduate – are available through the university's nine colleges (Agriculture & Life Sciences, Architecture & Urban Studies, Engineering, Liberal Arts & Human Sciences, Natural Resources, Pamplin Business, Science, The Virginia Tech Carilion School of Medicine, and Virginia-Maryland Regional College of Veterinary Medicine) and Graduate School than at any other university in the commonwealth. Some 93 percent of all departments offer e-learning courses, which have attracted more than 130,000 enrollments since 1999.

With annual research expenditures exceeding $396 million, Virginia Tech ranks in the top 50 research universities in the United States.

For more information about Virginia Tech, visit the university's Web site – www.vt.edu.

INTERESTING FACTS & FIGURES

- Virginia Tech has approximately 212,000 living alumni from every state and about 100 countries.
- All campus facilities, including residence halls, have high-speed connections to voice, data, and video communications.
- U.S. News & World Report ranks Virginia Tech's overall undergraduate programs 30th among national public universities. Of all universities – public or private – it ranks Tech 71st.
- Kiplinger Personal Finance magazine ranks Virginia Tech' 16th among public colleges and universities that offer a first-class educational experience at a bargain price.
- The National Science Foundation ranks Virginia Tech sixth in the nation for its agricultural and natural resources research expenditures.
- The Princeton Review ranks Virginia Tech eighth among public universities in its "best-value colleges" for 2010.
- The university's undergraduate engineering program is 14th among the nation's engineering schools and seventh among public universities, according to U.S. News & World Report. Nine of the college's undergraduate programs rank in the top 25.
- U.S. News & World Report ranks the College of Engineering's graduate program 25th nationally, with four individual undergraduate programs in the top 10.
- The Pamplin College of Business undergraduate program was ranked 42nd in the nation and 24th among public schools by U.S. News & World Report.
- Virginia Tech consistently ranks among the top 15 schools in the nation in number of patents received.
- DesignIntelligence ranks Virginia Tech's undergraduate architecture program as one of America's World-Class Schools of Architecture with highest distinction. In addition, it ranks the graduate architecture program sixth in the nation and the graduate interior design program sixth. The graduate landscape architecture program has been ranked No. 2.
- The university's forestry program is top-ranked in North America, according to a study conducted by Auburn University.

AT A GLANCE

- Located in Blacksburg, Virginia
- Nine colleges and Graduate School
- Approximately 65 bachelor's degree programs
- Approximately 145 master's and doctoral degree programs
- Nearly 30,900 students, most full-time
- 16:1 student-faculty ratio
- Main campus includes more than 125 buildings, 2,600 acres, and an airport
- Computing and communications complex for worldwide information access
- Ranks 46th in university research expenditures in the United States
- Adjacent Corporate Research Center
- Medical school located in Roanoke, Virginia

PAIRING UP PERFECTLY:

VIRGINIA TECH AND BLACKSBURG

College Town, USA! That phrase says it all. Students at Virginia Tech have the best of all worlds from the community that is Virginia Tech and Blacksburg. Safe, friendly and affordable, Blacksburg holds all the charms of a true college town, while the New River and nearby Roanoke valleys offer the amenities of larger metropolitan areas.

An uncrowded campus that is world-renowned for its advanced technology means that a stress-free life away from the rigors of competition are available for all students. Culturally, socially, educationally and emotionally, there is no better place to spend your college career than Virginia Tech and Blacksburg.

ACADEMIC SUPPORT

SAASS PROVIDES TOOLS FOR SUCCESS

Expectations placed on Virginia Tech student-athletes are high both in the classroom and on the field. Working together with the Tech Athletics Department, Student-Athlete Academic Support Services (SAASS) acts as the backbone for Hokie student-athletes in order to help them achieve their full potential, both inside and outside of athletics. Tutors, study assistance, computer and technology aid and individual skill development programs are just some of the services available.

In addition, SAASS assists students in arranging appointments with various university departments, such as their academic advisors, the Registrar, the Office of Scholarships and Financial Aid, deans offices, Career Services and the Cook Counseling Center for Academic Enrichment and Excellence.

SAASS is committed to providing a comprehensive academic and personal development program with counseling and advising for student-athletes, offering academic counseling to ensure students receive a complete system of support.

Student-athletes have access to the department's spacious facilities, located in the West Side of Lane Stadium. Opened during the 2006-07 academic year, the SAASS suite, located in the Quillen Family Academic Center, features 18 private tutor rooms, a state-of-the-art classroom, a 36-station computer lab with printer access, a conference room, three quiet areas for reading and studying and a reference library. The office is available between classes, after practice and in the evenings. Hours of operation are flexible and may be tailored to maximize the student-athlete's limited time. The collection of SAASS programs housed in Lane Stadium guarantees that all student-athletes achieve success during their time at Virginia Tech.

Mike Swanhart works with the men's and women's tennis teams as an academic counselor.

STUDENT LIFE

DEVELOPING THE TOTAL PERSON

At Virginia Tech, student-athletes don't just play sports. With help from the Athletics Office of Student Life, Hokie student-athletes work outside the athletic venue to develop into community assets and responsible adults.

Led by the Virginia Tech Student-Athlete Advisory Committee, Hokie student-athletes volunteered countless hours in the local community last year. In addition, over 300 Virginia Tech student-athletes earned a 3.00 grade point average during one or both semesters, while achieving great success within athletics as well.

Inspired by the NCAA/CHAMPS (Changing Athletes' Minds for Personal Success) Life Skills Program, the Athletics Office of Student Life creates programs designed to enhance student-athletes in five areas of commitment: athletic excellence, academic excellence, personal and leadership development, community service and career development. The program has been previously honored for its commitment to serving the good of the student-athletes by the Division I-A Athletic Director's Association as a program of excellence.

STUDENT-ATHLETE ADVISORY COMMITTEE

The Student-Athlete Advisory Committee (SAAC) is a committee made up of student-athletes assembled to provide insight on the student-athlete experience. They also offer input on the rules, regulations and policies that affect student-athletes' lives on NCAA member institution campuses. Two members of each sports team serve on SAAC each academic year.

PERSONAL DEVELOPMENT

The Office of Student Life aims to help student-athletes lead balanced lifestyles, encouraging emotional well-being, personal growth and decision-making skills. Each team attends two personal development workshops during the year to educate members in healthy living, service learning, career development, diversity and life skills.

CAREER DEVELOPMENT

Virginia Tech student-athletes savor their collegiate athletic experiences with the understanding that they will need to secure a job upon graduation. The Office of Student Life works to enhance student-athlete career development by collaborating with the Virginia Tech Career Services Office. Student-athletes also receive assistance in learning about majors and minors, preparing for career fairs, and obtaining scholarships and internships.

ACADEMIC EXCELLENCE

The Office of Student Life is also responsible for nominating student-athletes for academic honors and awards. Athletes are nominated for on-campus, Atlantic Coast Conference and national awards. Student-athletes with a 3.0 GPA are rewarded and honored on the Athletic Director's Honor Roll. In 2009-10, 370 student-athletes were named to this prestigious list, an increase of nearly 30 from 2008-09.

COMMUNITY OUTREACH

Virginia Tech student-athletes are now involved more than ever in the local community. In conjunction with the mission of the Office of Student Life and the Ut Prosim motto, student-athletes are encouraged to volunteer throughout their college experience. Each team partners with a local community organization and volunteers time at community-wide events. Along with large volunteer efforts, student-athletes engage in community support with visits to local hospitals and elementary and middle schools. Community organizations can also request Tech student-athletes to attend local outreach events. Involvement in this program helps maintain and improve the positive relationship between student-athletes and the surrounding community.

SPORTS MEDICINE

PROVIDING EXPERIENCED PROFESSIONAL CARE

The Sports Medicine Department at Virginia Tech is constantly evolving to incorporate new ideas utilizing state-of-the-art resources for the betterment of all Hokie student-athletes. Under the leadership of Assistant Athletics Director for Athletic Training Mike Goforth, the department is constantly improving and developing new strategies to provide the most current and comprehensive care.

Their team of certified athletic trainers, orthopaedic surgeons, Board Certified primary care physicians, chiropractors, physical therapists, sport psychologists, nutritionists, massage therapists and orthotists are available on site to manage the health care needs of Tech athletes. The staff continually looks for ways to enhance the services provided for their athletes as evidenced by its participation in local and national projects pertaining to related topics such as concussion management, prevention of antibiotic resistant types of staph infection (MRSA), high ankle sprains and collegiate health care management strategies. Research is considered instrumental to the sports medicine department. The department has participated in several projects with the engineering department and school of education, respectively.

The 4,300-square-foot Eddie Ferrell Memorial Training Room gives the training staff a centralized area to care for the needs of all Virginia Tech student-athletes. There is top-of-the-line equipment and a unique style of architecture, developed by Glenn Sebastien Jacques works with trainer Meaghan Murphy in the Eddie Ferrell Memorial Training Room.

Reynolds, AIA and Larry Perry as the consulting engineer. In 2010, Reynolds again helped Tech spearhead another 3,000-square-foot expansion of the training room to encompass the weight room.

The Ferrell Training Room nearly doubled the size of the former Merryman Center facility. Tech now has more than 10,000 square feet dedicated to sports medicine, placing it in the top five percent nationally. The $10 million Merryman Center includes 2,400 square feet of medical space and a physician's suite. The suite is equipped with a new state-of-the-art X-ray system, a fluoroscopy unit and a minor procedure room. The training room also has offices for the staff, dozens of training tables, two cold tubs, whirlpools, an underwater treadmill, a Biodex System 3 and various other pieces of rehabilitation equipment and treatment modalities.

Athletes have many options to help prevent or protect them from injuries. The sports medicine staff takes great pride in treating athletes year-round. Special attention is paid to off-season activity. The staff will analyze past injury data from each participant and construct a preventative program that is followed over a nine-week period between the end of the season and the beginning of spring practice. This same procedure is followed during the summer.

ATHLETIC PERFORMANCE

KEEPING STUDENT ATHLETES READY TO PLAY

STRENGTH & CONDITIONING

Thanks to the direction of Assistant Athletics Director for Athletic Performance Mike Gentry, the Virginia Tech strength and conditioning program is among the best in the nation. One of the main supporters of Tech tennis is the strength and conditioning program. The results of hard work by the staff and the student-athletes have paid huge dividends as the Hokies continue to improve in the ACC.

Tech tennis players train in the Jim "Bulldog" Haren Weight Room. Located in the Jamerson Athletic Center, the 5,000-square foot weight was officially dedicated in September 1985 to Haren, a former Hokie player and long-time supporter of the Virginia Tech Athletics Department.

SPORT NUTRITION

Eating healthy and choosing nutritious diets are important aspects of a Virginia Tech student-athlete's life and that's why in July 2002, the athletics department implemented the sports nutrition program. Amy Freel serves as the director. Freel, who is one of 16 full-time college dietitians in the country, also serves on the nutrition and performance committee with Dr. Gary Bennett.

"It is extremely beneficial for our student-athletes to have nutrition education and counseling available to them in order for them to remain successful in their sports and outside of athletics," Freel said. "The individualized nutrition education allows the athletes and me to get very specific on their nutritional, personal and sport-specific goals."

The sports nutrition program has helped countless Tech athletes maximize their athletic performance. Freel will be aided by Jennie Schafer, who is a graduate assistant.

SPORT PSYCHOLOGY

Virginia Tech offers another important service to all of its student-athletes – sport psychology. Dr. Gary Bennett coordinates the sport psychology department, which offers psychological and performance enhancement services for student-athletes. Bennett and counselor Kellie Moran-Miller, Ph.D., work together to serve the needs of Tech student-athletes. Both are also employed at the Cook Counseling Center on campus.

The sport psychology department offers an injury group to afford injured athletes the opportunity to meet with a sport psychologist and other injured athletes and talk about the recovery process. On average, Bennett conducts 30 individual sessions per week and meets weekly with teams as the need arises.

The response to the sport psychology program has been positive. The student-athletes are very receptive to the services offered by the doctors. The sport psychology office reaches out to athletes who may not have considered going to the counseling service that is offered to all students at Virginia Tech.

Pedro Graber works in the Haren weight room.

VIRGINIA TECH FACILITIES

AMONG NATION'S BEST

VT A SUCCESS STORY

In recent years, Virginia Tech's athletic programs have grown immensely and are on an escalating path to success. For the ever-growing legion of Tech fans, the most exciting part is that the future looks even brighter.

On July 1, 2004, Virginia Tech officially became a member of the prestigious Atlantic Coast Conference - a move that has already helped the Hokie athletics program grow even stronger. Tech competes at the Division I level of the NCAA, and with a total of 21 varsity sports, 11 for men and 10 for women, Virginia Tech provides generous opportunities for athletes (and fans) to get in the Hokie huddle. Prior to joining the ACC, Virginia Tech was a charter member of the BIG EAST Football Conference starting in 1991, and a member of the BIG EAST in all other sports except wrestling from 2001 to 2004.

Tech's nationally known football program has had unprecedented success for nearly two decades, recently participating in its 17th-straight bowl game. In 2009, the Hokies won 10 games for the sixth-consecutive season, including a 37-14 victory over Tennessee in the Chick-fil-A Bowl. The Tech football team captured the ACC Championship in back-to-back seasons in 2007 and 2008 after taking the title in 2004, its inaugural season in the league. The Hokies also won BIG EAST Championships in 1995, 1996 and 1999, and played for the National Championship in the 2000 Nokia Sugar Bowl.

The Hokie baseball program broke out a record season in 2010, earning national top-25 rankings for the first time since 1992 and posting seven wins over top-10 teams. The Hokies' season ended with a loss to South Carolina in the NCAA Regional at Columbia, S.C. Subsequently, a school-record seven Hokies were chosen in the 2010 Major League Baseball First-Year Player Draft.

During the 2009-2010 season, the men's basketball team advanced to the quarterfinals of the NIT for the second-straight year, after a huge victory over UConn at Cassell Coliseum. Led by AP All-American Malcolm Delaney, the Hokies finished with a 25-9 record and posted a 13-2 start, their strongest start in program history. The women's basketball team has advanced to the postseason 12 times in the past 16 years.

In 2005, Spyridon Jullien won NCAA titles in the indoor weight throw and the outdoor hammer throw, bringing the school its first-ever NCAA championships in any sport. A year later as a senior, Jullien won both titles again, and during the 2009 outdoor season Tech's Marcel Lomnický won the national title in the hammer. The women's track and field team won back-to-back titles in both the 2007 and 2008 Indoor and Outdoor ACC Championships. In 2010, hurdler Queen Harrison, who participated in the 2008 Olympic Games, captured the NCAA Indoor Championship in the 60-meter hurdles. A large contingent of Hokies from the men's and women's track & field teams participated in the NCAA Outdoor Championships. Harrison made NCAA history when she won both the 100- and 400-meter hurdle events, marking the first time a woman has swept both hurdles events in the same NCAA national meet. Tech's women's and men's squads finished fifth and 10th, respectively, in the team standings.

The men's soccer program advanced to the NCAA College Cup for the first time in history in 2007, while the women's soccer program earned its first Sweet 16 appearance in 2009, collecting its second-consecutive NCAA Tournament bid. The Hokies defeated a program-best, five top-25 teams, including then-No. 1 North Carolina, to earn their highest-ever conference finish. Tech made its third straight appearance to the national tournament in 2010.

In 2001, the Hokie golf team won a nation's best six tournaments, including the BIG EAST Golf Championship, and went on to record an eighth-place finish at the 2001 NCAA Golf Championship. In 2007, the Hokies tied for the ACC tournament title and this spring the Tech squad is competing in an NCAA Regional for the fourth consecutive season. In 2007, the women's softball team advanced to the NCAA Tournament for the third straight year and made its first appearance at the Women's College World Series. Led by National Player of the Year, Angela Tincher, Tech posted back-to-back ACC Tournament titles.

Many individuals have also participated in NCAA postseason competition in recent years, including Hokies from wrestling, tennis, swimming, golf, cross country and track & field. The men's and women's swimming and diving programs sent a combined seven athletes to the NCAA Championships in 2009-2010, coming home with two individual All-Americans and an Honorable Mention All-America Relay Team in the 800 freestyle. The wrestling team finished the 2009-2010 season ranked 14th nationally, with four conference champions and a 17-5 dual meet record, while the men's tennis team made its fourth straight appearance in NCAA postseason competition.

Queen Harrison made NCAA history when she won both the 100- and 400-meter hurdle events at the NCAA Outdoor Championships.

The women's soccer team advanced to the NCAA Tournament the last three years.

The Tech football team won the ACC championship in 2010 and made its 18th consecutive bowl appearance.

HONOR ROLL

VIRGINIA TECH SPORTS HALL OF FAME

Jack Burrows, Bill Buchanan, Roy Beskin, Marcus Kramer, Oliver Mayo and Aaron Marchetti are the six men's tennis players/coaches selected to the Virginia Tech Sports Hall of Fame.

Burrows

Buchanan

Beskin

Jack Burrows, a 1990 inductee, was Tech's first NCAA qualifier (1969) and served as player-coach in 1970.

Bill Buchanan, enshrined in 1990, was a two-year letterman who later served a men's tennis coach for 17 years.

Roy Beskin was Tech's No. 1 player for two years and was a seven-time Virginia State Champion. Beskin was inducted in 1993.

Marcus Kramer was a three-time All-Metro Conference selection and entered the Hall in 2006.

Oliver Mayo was the Hokies first NCAA All-American and was the 1996 Atlantic 10 Conference Player of the Year. Mayo was inducted in 2007.

Aaron Marchetti is the latest men's tennis player to be honored. He was a three-time A-10 Player of the Year and named a 1999 NCAA All-American.

Kramer

Mayo

Marchetti

Aaron Marchetti enters Hall of Fame in 2009.

SKELTON AWARD

Pedro Graber received the prestigious Skelton Award in 2009, which is presented each year to one male and one female student-athlete who have an overall grade point average of 3.40 or better. To be eligible, a student-athlete must have participated in two competitive seasons at Virginia Tech. Students who receive the Skelton scholarship excel in academics, leadership and athletics, and are active in community outreach. The recipients of the award receive a $5,000 scholarship donated by the late Dr. Bill Skelton and his wife Peggy.

Pedro Graber won the coveted Skelton Award in 2009.

BURROWS-BURLESON

TECH CAMPUS IS HOME TO A FIRST-CLASS TENNIS FACILITY

The Burrows-Burleson Tennis Center is one of many first-class facilities at Virginia Tech. The Hokies have an athletic complex that is among the best in the nation and an administration that is dedicated to seeing the facilities continue to improve.

The tennis center, located just up the hill from Lane Stadium, offers 12 outdoor courts with bleacher seating, six indoor courts with a mezzanine viewing area including chair back bleachers which were added in 2008, locker rooms, coaches' offices, a team room and a social area. The Hokies' locker room in the facility was upgraded and remodeled in the spring of 2004. Six additional outdoor courts were completed in Summer, 2009.

The tennis center is one of the few in the nation featuring digital video cameras on each indoor court. The system, created by XOS Technologies, records competition and team practices simultaneously on all six courts. The cameras are mounted at the back of each court in the center and are connected to a DVD recorder located in the tennis coach's office. The Virginia Tech system is one of the first all-digital systems in the nation. The system is also used by members of the tennis center and other local patrons for stroke analysis.

In 2007, two large scoreboards were added indoors which allow spectators to follow the action on all six courts. The scoreboards are a product of Santech, Inc., the supplier of scoreboards at Disney's Wide World of Sports in Orlando, Fla. The approximated $40,000 expense was paid in part by a generous donation from Kent James and family.

The tennis center, which opened in 1992, was made possible by gifts from Dave and Betty Burrows of Roanoke; their son Jack Burrows and his wife Lee of Roanoke; and their daughter Beverly and her husband, Bobby Burleson, of Tallahassee, Fla. Jack Burrows and Bobby Burleson were teammates on Tech's tennis team in the late 60's. Burrows was an NCAA participant and is a member of the Virginia Tech Sports Hall of Fame.

Greig Denny

*Director of Burrows-Burleson
Tennis Center*

Greig Denny is in his third year as director of the Burrows-Burleson Tennis Center at Virginia Tech. When the varsity teams are not using the facility, the tennis center is operated as a self-sustaining club with over 275 members.

Denny comes to Virginia Tech from nearby Radford University, where he had over 24 years of experience in NCAA Division I athletics, the last 12 years as Director of Athletics. While at Radford, he served terms on the NCAA Division I Strategic Planning Cabinet, the NCAA Division I Championship/Competition Cabinet and the NCAA Division I Management Council.

Denny earned his bachelor's degree at SUNY Cortland in 1979 and a master's from Virginia Tech in 1983. He and his wife, Ellen, have three children; Madalyn, Alexis and William.
