der new | while she was ranked

This season, the Hokies will be under new supervision as head coach Chris Riley begins his first year at the helm. Joining Riley will be assistant coaches Shelbylynn McBride and Jayme Gergen.

The departure of setter Melissa Markowski due to graduation is the most notable loss from last year's squad. The Hokies, however, return nine players, including five starters and the starting libero, from the 2005 season and will bring in five talented freshmen.

Middle and Right Side Hitters

A strong point for the Hokies will clearly be the middle of the net as seniors Katie Esbrook and Allie Kupec return for their final season. As experienced seniors, they will be looked to for leadership throughout the season.

Esbrook returns as the top player at the net and will be expected to dominate the middle as well this season. She led the Hokies with a .319 hitting percentage and 118 blocks last season, while she was ranked second on the team with 349 kills (3.26 pg).

Complimenting Esbrook at the middle blocker position will be Kupec. Last season was Kupec's first full season at middle blocker and she was an immediate offensive threat as well as a defensive threat.
She was second on the team in both blocks
(100) and hitting percentage (.219), while ranking fourth with 271 kills.

Returning to the right side is junior Jen Albrecht. Albrecht has significantly improved

Senior Allie Kupec had 271 kills and 100 blocks last season.

Katie Esbrook returns for her fourth season. She has ranked in the top five single-season leaders for hitting percentage all three of her previous years.

her game each season, earning a starting spot and improving her average to 2.27 kills per game last year. She will be looked to for significant contributions again this season.

Also contending for a spot in the middle or on the right side are freshmen Rachel Fahlenkamp and Betsy Horowitz. Their size and athleticism will add immediate depth to the potential at the net as they look to gain experience in their rookie campaigns.

"We'll expect our middles to be very good at hitting and blocking," Riley said. "A lot of offense will be run through our middles as long as we can stay in system. We've got a very athletic group who can score consistently as long as we can get them the ball. It will be our ability to block and defend that will be the key to our opportunities to score points."

Setter

With the loss of Markowski, a four-year starter and Tech's career leader in assists (5,287), the competition for the starting setter position is open.

"With a new system coming in, we expect our setters to run a faster, more balanced attack from the front and back row in order to give our team a more versatile offense," Riley noted.

Sophomore Kirstyn Godwin will look to contend for the starting spot, as she gained valuable experiences her freshman year. Joining Godwin in contention for a setting role are freshmen Paige Greenberg and Michelle Lang. Both freshmen have potential to add depth to the team.

Outside Hitters

Leading the way on the outside is sophomore Sarah Muñoz. During the 2005 season, Muñoz led the team with 356 kills and 29 service aces. She ranked third with 272 digs and fourth with a .141 hitting percentage.

"In order for our team to win, our outside hitters will have to be very good at serve receive and defense," Riley said. "Their ability to attack will be important, but their ability to pass and defend will be more important.

Also looking to see action on the left side are senior Kendra Sytsma, sophomore Cathy Jansen and freshman Taylor Parrish. Sytsma joined the Hokies from Troy University last year and is looking to have a strong senior campaign. Last season, she registered 40 kills, 55 digs and five service aces.

Libero/Defensive Specialist

Returning to the backcourt is two-year starter Amanda Cloyd at libero. Cloyd is an important player in the back row, as she led the team in digs the past two years. She set a Virginia Tech record for digs in a season with 536 in 2005 and is one of only 10 players to reach the 1,000-career-dig mark at Tech.

Junior Rachel Dulla, a strong defensive player, who tore her ACL after playing 16 games last year, returns for some back row action. Before her injury, she was ranked in the top ten in the conference for service aces.

"Our libero has to control the floor out of the back row," Riley said. "They will be asked to get to as many balls as possible to allow our attackers to be available to hit both front row and back row."

The Schedule

The Hokies will participate in three tournaments this season, including playing host to the annual Hokie Fall Invitational Sept. 8-9, featuring George Washington, Liberty and Appalachian State.

Tech will open the season at the East Carolina Tournament on Aug. 25-26, with Furman, William & Mary and East Carolina. The Hokies will also be featured in the Auburn/Mizuno Challenge at Auburn on Sept. 1-2, with Arizona State, Purdue and Auburn.

The conference schedule will kick off with three consecutive home matches, beginning with in-state rival Virginia on Sept. 15. North Carolina and NC State then travel to Cassell Coliseum to face the Hokies Sept. 21 and 22, respectively.

Junior Amanda Cloyd broke the single-season dig record last year with 536 digs. She ranks 10th all-time, with 1,067 digs in her career.

Chris

HEAD VOLLEYBALL COACH

Chris Riley is in his first season as head coach of the Virginia Tech volleyball team. He replaces six-year head coach Greg Smith, who accepted a position at Notre Dame.

"I am pleased that Chris Riley has joined the Virginia Tech athletics family," said Jim Weaver, Director of Athletics. "I believe he has the ability to take the volleyball program to the next level and ultimately compete for ACC championships."

Riley spent the last six seasons at Towson University, where he led the team to five straight 20-win seasons, three Colonial Athletic Association regular season championships, the 2004 CAA tournament championship and the 2004 NCAA tournament. He won the CAA Coach of the Year award in 2003, and the America East Coach of the Year award in 2001. Riley had an overall record of 144-54 at Towson.

Last year, the Tigers went 28-7, with four players earning All-CAA honors.

In 2004, Towson earned the CAA regular season title with a 13-1 record. The Tigers swept George Mason and Delaware to win the CAA tournament championship and earn a berth in the NCAA tournament.

Riley made an immediate impact with the team upon his arrival at Towson in 2000, and in his second year as a head coach, led the team to its first winning season in six years, posting a 28-4 record.

Prior to going to Towson, Riley spent six years at St. John's University in New York. While serving as an assistant with the Red Storm, Riley helped lead the team in its inaugural years as a Division I program. He implemented off-season training programs and assisted with recruiting. Riley also started the first volleyball camp at St. John's.

Riley also spent one season as an assistant coach at his alma mater, Jacksonville University.

A 1993 graduate of Jacksonville with a Bachelor of Arts degree in English, he played for the Dolphins' golf team and formed the men's volleyball club. He was the captain of the volleyball club as a senior.

Riley has competed in beach and USA Volleyball indoor leagues and tournaments. In addition to his college coaching experience, Riley also served as the head coach for the Long Island-Big Apple Volleyball Club, a nationallyrecognized junior team in Nassau, N.Y., from 1998-2000.

Riley and his wife, the former Tara Cahill, are the parents of a toddler son, Aidan, and baby daughter, Kieran. They reside in Blacksburg, Va.

Shelbylynn McBRIDE

ASSISTANT VOLLEYBALL COACH

Shelbylynn McBride is in her first season at Virginia Tech after spending one year as an assistant at Towson University.

Working with current Virginia Tech head coach Chris Riley, she helped lead the Tigers to a 28-7 record in 2005.

In 2004, McBride worked as an assistant at UMBC. The Retrievers went 13-18 overall and 4-10 in the America East, finishing seventh in the league that year. She briefly took over as interim head coach before being hired at Towson

McBride played both basketball and volleyball as an undergraduate for the George Mason Patriots before finishing her final year of volleyball eligibility as a graduate student at Georgia State University.

At Georgia State, she led the Panthers to the 2003 Atlantic Sun Conference championship game and led the team with 3.46 kills per game. The Panthers ended the season 27-8 overall and 9-1 in the conference. McBride tallied 688 career kills in three seasons at George Mason. She was Colonial Athletic Association Rookie of the Year in 1999 and was the only freshman to earn second-team All-CAA honors that year. She also lettered in basketball, scoring 719 career points.

McBride coached at Georgia State for eight months as a graduate assistant following her final year of eligibility and served as an assistant coach for the Metro Volleyball Club in Fairfax, Va., between November 2001 and May 2002.

A native of Valrico, Fla., McBride resides in Blacksburg, Va.

Jayme GERGEN

ASSISTANT VOLLEYBALL COACH

Coast Conference regular season titles and one ACC Tournament Championship.

A middle hitter in college, Gergen was a 2004 AVCA honorable mention All-American, a first-team All-ACC honoree, an Academic All-District selection and also earned AVCA East Region honors. She was named Georgia Tech's Most Improved Player following the 2002 season and earned the Coaches' Award after the 2003 season.

As a senior in 2004, she ranked first in the ACC and 11th in the nation in hitting percentage (.393). She finished her career ranked second on the Georgia Tech career hitting percentage list (.353), and was fifth for both career block assists (426) and total blocks (473). She was also fourth on the career blocks per game list (1.18).

Gergen was a Dean's List student who graduated with a degree in psychology. She was named to the ACC Honor Roll in 2001, '02 and '03.

A Topeka, Kan., native, Gergen resides in Christiansburg, Va.

Jayme Gergen enters her second season as an assistant coach at Virginia Tech, working with the middle blockers.

Gergen, a 2004 Georgia Tech graduate, helped guide the Yellow Jackets to four straight NCAA Tournament appearances, three Atlantic

For the Virginia Tech volleyball team, the 2005 season had its share of ups and downs. Though the team finished 13-18 overall with an 8-14 record in the Atlantic Coast Conference, the Hokies had several victories over strong competition.

The year started off well with a 3-0 victory over Georgetown in the Hokie Invitational, with the team hitting a season-high .352 with eight service aces. The Hokies dropped their next four games, however, falling in three sets to Wisconsin-Milwaukee, Mississippi State and Oregon State.

Virginia Tech got back on track in a big way, rallying from a two-game deficit for a 3-2 victory over UC Irvine. In game three, the Hokies battled to a 32-30 victory before winning the last two games 30-22 and 15-11. Senior Erin Brugger had a team-high 20 kills in the win, while freshman Sarah Muñoz totaled 14 kills and 10 digs.

It was the beginning of a four-game winning streak, as the Hokies rolled into Miami (Ohio) University and won the Miami Classic with wins over Miami, Northern Colorado and Wright State. The Miami match went back-and-forth the entire contest, with neither team able to gain an advantage. Down 13-10 in the fifth game, Tech rallied for three straight points to tie the contest. With the score tied 16-16, a kill from junior Katie Esbrook and a Brugger and Esbrook block gave Tech the victory.

Junior Jen Albrecht played in all 110 games for the Hokies last season, posting 181 kills.

Senior setter Melissa Markowski had 178 assists, eight kills and 30 digs over the course of the Classic, en route to being named Most Valuable Player. She earned all-tournament recognition in all three tournaments that Tech participated in. Esbrook and Brugger were named to the alltournament team of the Classic.

The Hokies began their ACC slate with a 3-0 loss at North Carolina. They had better luck two days later at NC State, earning a 3-0 victory over the Wolfpack. It was a hard-fought battle, with neither team holding a clear advantage in any of the three games until the final points. In game three, Tech rallied from a five-point deficit late in the game to preserve the sweep. Sophomore libero Amanda Cloyd tallied 15 digs in the win.

Virginia Tech returned home for the first time since the beginning of the season on Sept. 30, falling to undefeated Maryland, 3-0, before coming back to sweep Boston College 3-0. Muñoz tallied 14 kills against the Eagles, while Cloyd had 22 digs.

After falling to Virginia 3-0 on Oct. 4, the team got a big morale boost in it's next two games, coming away with a pair of victories in Cassell Coliseum. After sweeping Wake Forest 3-0, the Hokies earned one of their biggest wins of the season with a 3-2 win over 2005 NCAA Tournament participant Duke. With the Blue Devils leading the match 2-1, Tech came back from four points down in game four to tie the series. In game five, Duke took an 11-9 advantage before Tech finished out the game on a 6-1 run to win 15-12. Markowski totaled 62 assists, while Muñoz had 21 kills and 19 digs. Cloyd had 25 digs, and Esbrook tallied 22 kills.

The Hokies lost their next three games, dropping decisions at Florida State and Miami and losing a tough 3-2 battle against ACC volleyball powerhouse Georgia Tech. Three-game sweeps of both Clemson and NC State would put Virginia Tech back on track. Tech again rallied against the Wolfpack behind Brugger's 18 kills. Down eight points in game three, 15-7, Tech went on a 7-0 run to come within one, 15-14. It was one of the Hokies' largest comebacks of the season, as they went on to win the third game 32-30.

The final month of the season proved difficult for, as Tech went on an eight-game losing streak that lasted until the final weekend of the year.

Playing their final two games of the year in Blacksburg, the Hokies pulled together to send their four seniors (Markowski, Brugger, Liz Katie Esbrook led the team with a .318 hitting percentage and 118 blocks last season.

Kapp and Sarah King) out on a winning note, starting with a 3-1 win over Clemson. After falling 30-24 in game one, Tech won the final three games 31-29, 30-27 and 30-26. Junior Allie Kupec and Esbrook each had 15 kills, while Markowski had 51 assists and 18 digs.

In the final game of the year, the Hokies ended their season with a 3-1 win over Georgia Tech, a preseason top-25 selection. Down 1-0, Tech came back from a nine-point deficit in the second game to win 31-29, and won the final two games 30-22 and 30-28. Esbrook led the team with 18 kills, while Muñoz had 15 kills and 11 digs. Cloyd totaled 24 digs, and in her final game, Markowski had 60 assists. For her performance in the final two games, Markowski earned ACC Co-Player of the Week honors.

Two players reached milestones during the season, led by four-year starter Markowski, who finished her career with a school-record 5,287 assists. Cloyd set a single-season record with 536 digs, bringing her career total to 1,014. She is the 10th player in school history to reach the 1,000 dig mark.

In addition to being honored for her play on the court by VaSID as a second-team selection, Markowski earned several academic awards at the end of the season. She earned an ACC post-graduate scholarship, and was named as a Virginia Tech Scholar-Athlete. Markowski, as well as sophomore Jen Albrecht, was honored by ESPN the magazine as an Academic All-District III first-team pick and named to the All-ACC Academic Volleyball Team. Kupec was also on the All-ACC Academic Team.

THIS IS VIRGINIA TECH

Beginning in 1872 with 132 students and two programs of study, Virginia Polytechnic Institute and State University, popularly known as Virginia Tech, has evolved into a comprehensive university of national and international prominence. With about 25,800 full-time students in Blacksburg and more than 2,000 other students statewide, the university produces world-class scholarship in a challenging academic environment. University tradition is firmly rooted in our motto, Ut Prosim (That I May Serve), and our historic land-grant mission is brought to life through learning, discovery, and engagement.

Learning

Virginia Tech's challenging academic standards attract high-achieving students. Our eight colleges (Agriculture & Life Sciences, Architecture & Urban Studies, Engineering, Liberal Arts & Human Sciences, Natural Resources, Pamplin Business, Science, and Virginia-Maryland Regional College of Veterinary Medicine) and Graduate School offer more degree programs than any other university in the state with 60 undergraduate and 140 graduate offerings. Virginia Tech is one of the nation's leaders in developing and using instructional technologies. Some 85 percent of our departments offer e-learning courses, which have attracted more than 60,000 enrollments since 1998.

Discovery

The university's groundbreaking research transforms lives and communities. With annual research expenditures of about $290 million, Virginia Tech is ranked 55th among research universities in the United States. The university, which has more than 100 research centers, also consistently ranks among the top institutions in industry-supported research and near the top 10 in the number of patents issued each year.

The university's nationally and internationally recognized faculty and motivated students are involved in more than 3,500 research projects in fields ranging from biotechnology to materials, from the environment and energy to food and health, and from transportation to computing information.

TECH AT A GLANCE

- Located at Blacksburg, Virginia
- Eight colleges and Graduate School
- 60 bachelor's degree programs
- Approximately 140 masters and doctoral degree programs
- About 28,000 students, mostly full-time
- 16:1 student-faculty ratio
- Main campus includes more than 100 buildings, 2,600 acres, and an airport
- Computing and communications complex for worldwide information access
- Ranked 55th in university research in the United States
- Has adjacent Corporate Research Center

Engagement

As part of our outreach mission and in adherence to our motto, we serve and engage the citizens of the commonwealth, the nation, and the world. Virginia Tech is involved in a multitude of economic and community development projects. These efforts focus on education and the dissemination of knowledge to the global society in which we live.

Professionals, organizations, and communities tap Virginia Tech's vast resources, expertise, and research results through hundreds of continuing and professional education programs and five campus centers.

Virginia Tech has a long history of providing innovative distance-learning techniques, such as satellite videoconferencing, multimedia, interactive video, interactive computer conferencing, and Web-based courses, to meet the various needs of working adults and other nontraditional students.

Virginia Tech manages more than $30 million in funded economic development projects in 27 countries and encourages faculty members to develop global course content and study abroad opportunities for students. In 2005-06, about 1,870 students from 117 foreign countries studied at Tech, while more than 800 Virginia Tech students studied abroad.

Virginia Cooperative Extension, operated jointly in the commonwealth by Virginia Tech and Virginia State University, has been helping people improve their economic, cultural, and social well being for more than 90 years. With 107 city/county offices, tens of thousands of volunteers, and programs across the state, Extension reaches and teaches millions of Virginians annually.

SPORTS MEDICINE

The Virginia Tech Sports Medicine Department is an everchanging and developing unit that strives to provide the most current and comprehensive care to all
Tech student-athletes.

The athletic training staff recently completed its fifth full year in the 4,300-square-foot Eddie Ferrell Memorial Training Room, a facility that gives the staff a centralized area to care for the needs of student-athletes. Virginia Tech has more than 10,000 square feet dedicated to sports medicine, placing it in the top five percent nationally. The Merryman Center, a state-of-theart facility that includes 2,400 square feet of medical space, supplements the Ferrell training room.

The sports medicine staff takes great pride in treating the athletes year-round. Special attention is paid to off-season activity.

"We owe it to our athletes to provide them with the necessary resources to keep them actively participating," director of athletic training, Mike Goforth, said.

After the sports medicine staff diagnoses and treats an ill or injured athlete, the staff then starts collaborative work with the strength and conditioning staff to give the best injury prevention and performance enhancing programs possible. The training, medical, and strength and conditioning staffs each have a role in bringing the athlete back quickly and ready to play. After an injury, an athlete will go through rehabilitation and physical therapy. Athletes are then moved to weight training, as they become able. The strength and conditioning staff uses specific programs for each injury in an effort to get the athlete back quickly.

The range of benefits athletes have access to include custom orthotics, custom mouth guards, specialized DonJoy prophylactic bracing and many other options to help prevent or protect them from injuries. The sports medicine staff also takes great pride in treating the athlete year-round. Special attention is paid to off-season activity. During this time, the staff will analyze past injury data from each participant and construct a preventative program for the athlete to follow. If physical therapy is needed, student-athletes can be seen by therapist Mark Piechoski in the Ferrell Training Room. Piechoski, who is a certified athletic trainer, physical therapist and strength and conditioning specialist, plays a large role in the overall program developed to return the injured athlete back to 100 percent. In addition, staff sport psychologist Gary Bennett is available to all student-athletes for personal and performance issues. Virginia Tech also has the services of Dr. Greg Tilley, team chiropractor. Dr. Tilley provides Tech athletes with specialized treatment for spine related conditions and also plays a huge role in performance enhancement through various chiropractic techniques.

Tech also maintains a special relationship with Montgomery Regional Hospital. Montgomery Regional Hospital is the choice for state-of-the-art equipment to perform surgeries, diagnostic imaging and processing of laboratory requests.

Kathy Hickman is the trainer for the volleyball team this fall.

STUDENT ATHLETE ACADEMIC SUPPORT SERVICES

The success of Virginia Tech's volleyball program rests largely on the academic progress of each student-athlete. The academic performance of Tech student-athletes has improved each year due in part to the Student Athlete Academic Support Services (SAASS).

The Virginia Tech graduation rate for student-athletes has risen significantly in recent years and was a school-best 74 percent for 2005. This marked the third time in the last four years that Virginia Tech's student-athlete graduation rate has been 70 percent or better.

In addition to posting impressive graduation figures, Virginia Tech's student-athletes continue to excel in the classroom. For the 2005 calendar year, 376 3.0 GPA's were earned by student-athletes, student trainers, student managers, cheerleaders and HighTechs.

Student-athletes devote many hours to practice, conditioning and training that are not required of all students. Due to their time commitment and their high visibility, it is an obligation and in the best interest of the university to supply these students with services which will allow them to maximize their academic potential.

The Virginia Tech Student Athlete Academic Support Services office is committed to providing fundamental and supplemental programming, consistent with University and NCAA policy, aimed at enhancing each student-athlete's educational experience.

During the summer, the SAASS office moved to the West Side of Lane Stadium. Here, student-athletes have access to state-of-the-art technology, quiet study facilities, individualized tutorial rooms and direct access to the SAASS staff. This complex is a focal point for the Athletics Department, both aesthetically and pragmatically, and provides a centralized place for student-athlete services.

The new facility features more than 18,000 square feet of space, 10 staff offices, 18 private tutor rooms, a state-of-the-art classroom, a 45-station computer lab, three reading/study rooms, a conference room and reference library.

Together, these spaces provide the student-athlete with a variety of study environments conducive to their success. Athletes can use these facilities between classes, after practice or in the evenings, with flexible hours tailored to make the most of a student-athlete's limited time.

Chris Helms, in his eighth year at Tech, is the director and is responsible for the development and leadership of the Student Athlete Academic Support Services office.

Drew Scales begins his fifth year with Student Athlete Academic Support Services as an assistant director. Scales provides academic support for student-athletes in lacrosse, volleyball, men's and women's soccer and wrestling, in addition to overseeing the mentor program.

Terrie Repass begins her 32nd year of service at Virginia Tech. She serves as the office secretary and "first contact" person for the SAASS.

SAASS AT A GLANCE

Stakeholders of the office's mission include student-athletes and their families, the university community, coaches and athletics administrators. SAASS seeks to develop relationships with its stakeholders that are founded on trust and respect, and provides the following services to accommodate their needs:

- University and NCAA information
- Orientation
- Academic assessment
- The development of an effective student life program
- Appropriate referrals
- Monitored study environments
- Tutorial programs
- State of the art technological learning assistance
- Student Athlete academic performance evaluations

OFFICE OF STUDENT LIFE

The Athletics Office of Student Life at Virginia Tech is committed to developing the total studentathlete. Director Megan Armbruster is dedicated to enhancing the quality of the student-athlete experience through various programs.

Virginia Tech student-athletes obtain personal development education through workshops and mandatory speakers. Presentation topics include gambling, alcohol abuse, sexual violence and healthy relationships, media relations, and manners and etiquette dinners.

Community Outreach

The Athletics Office of Student Life community outreach program is "Hokies with Heart". Studentathletes are encouraged to volunteer throughout their college experience. In 2004, the student-athletes volunteered with the Montgomery County Public Schools System, the Montgomery County Christmas Store, Virginia Tech White Ribbon Campaign and Hokies United Tsunami Relief Campaign.

The volleyball team has a partnership with Kipps Elementary School.

Career Development

In close collaboration with the Virginia Tech Career Services Center, career development programs are designed specifically for studentathletes. Resume design, career fair etiquette, mock interviews, interview attire and mini-career fairs are just a few examples of workshops hosted by the Athletics Office of Student Life. Student-athletes are encouraged to participate in on-campus interviewing and eRecruiting along with securing internships and coops during their college careers. In 2005-2006, both Cintas Corporation and NVR Inc. hosted workshops providing studentathletes the opportunity to hear job search strategies directly from employers.

Academic Excellence

The Virginia Tech Athletics
Office of Student Life is responsible for nominating student-athletes for academic honors and awards.
Athletes are nominated for oncampus, Atlantic Coast Conference and national awards. Student-athletes with a 3.0 GPA are rewarded each semester by being honored on the Athletic Director's Honor Roll.
The 2005 calendar year listed 377 student-athletes with this honor.

Several athletes from the Virginia Tech volleyball team have received various academic awards. Melissa Markowski, Allie Kupec and Jen Albrecht were named to the 2005 ACC All-Academic Team. Melissa Markowski and Jen Albrecht were also named to the All-District/Region team.

Athletic Excellence

The Virginia Tech Student Athlete Advisory Committee (SAAC) promotes effective communication between athletic administration and studentathletes. SAAC is comprised of two representatives from each sport. These representatives meet twice a month to discuss issues and concerns regarding their sports, department of athletics, ACC and NCAA legislation. The student-athletes encourage their teammates to get involved both on campus and in the community. Each year SAAC sponsors a canned food drive during the basketball season. The volleyball team representatives are Cathy Jansen and Allison Kupec.

Armbruster says, "The goal of our office is to provide students with the total college experience. When athletes graduate, I want them to look back and believe they had full access to a variety of opportunities while at Virginia Tech.

ATHLETIC PERFORMANCE

Thanks to the direction of Assistant Athletics Director for Athletic Performance Mike Gentry, the Virginia Tech strength and conditioning program is among the best in the nation.

The volleyball team trains in the beautiful 17,000-square foot training center on the first level of the Merryman Athletic Center.

The weight room facility features new freeweight equipment, a full line of Hammer Strength equipment, 12 platforms and a 6,000-square foot state-of-the-art speed and agility room.

Tech also has the use of a 10-by-40-yard sand pit located outdoors and adjacent to the weight room. This pit is used for resistive running drills to improve speed.

Tech volleyball players used to train in the Jim "Bulldog" Haren Weight Room. Located in Jamerson Athletic Center, the 5,000-square foot weight room was officially dedicated in September 1985 to Haren, a former Hokie football player and long-time supporter of the Virginia Tech Athletics Department.

With the two facilities, the Hokies have over 22,000-square feet of strength and conditioning training space.

Dr. Gentry is in his 20th season as the Hokies' director of strength and conditioning.

As assistant athletics director for athletic performance, his duties include overseeing the strength and conditioning training of athletes in all 21 varsity sports at Virginia Tech.

A native of Durham, N.C., he received his bachelor's degree in physical education from Western Carolina University in 1979 and received his master's from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill in 1981. He received his doctorate in curriculum and instruction, with an emphasis in motor behavior, from Tech in 1999.

Gentry worked as an assistant strength coach at UNC and as the head strength coach at East Carolina University prior to coming to Virginia Tech in 1987.

In 1995 and 1996, Gentry was recognized by the National Strength and Conditioning Association as a finalist for the National Strength and Conditioning Professional of the Year.

Assisting Gentry in the weight room this year are four full-time assistant strength and conditioning coaches — Terry Mitchell, assistant director of strength and conditioning, Jarrett Ferguson and Keith Short, coordinators of strength and conditioning, and Jamie Meyer, coordinator of strength and conditioning for Olympic sports.

Sports Nutrition

Eating healthy and choosing nutritious diets are important aspects of a Virginia Tech student-athlete's life. In July 2002, the athletics department implemented the sports nutrition program. Amy Freel serves as the director.

Freel works individually with studentathletes to provide them with information they need on their diet. She also provides individual players with diet counseling on issues such as gaining lean muscle mass, losing body fat, and eating choices to improve performance.

"It is extremely beneficial for our studentathletes to have nutrition education and counseling available to them in order for them to remain successful in their sports and outside of athletics," Freel said. "The individualized nutrition education allows me and the athletes to get very specific on their nutritional, personal and sport-specific goals." The sports nutritionist works with the "Training Edge," a dining option for health-conscious students and athletes, to design menus for training tables and daily menu selections.

Also in July 2002, the Virginia Tech
Athletics Department purchased the BOD POD body composition system. Tech is one of a handful of college athletic departments using this type of technology. It accurately measures body composition (percent of body fat, lean muscle mass and fat mass) through air displacement within five minutes. Research has shown that an increase in lean muscle mass will increase athletic performance.

Sport Psychology

Virginia Tech offers another important service to all its student-athetes — sport psychology. Dr. Gary Bennett coordinates the sport psychology department, which offers psychological and performance enhancement services for student-athletes. Bennett also works closely with the Cook Counseling Center.

Bennett meets with student-athletes on an individual basis for personal counseling and to discuss the mental aspects of the game. He also works on team building, communication and performance enhancement.

"We try to address all the various factors that affect student-athletes' performance on and off the field," Bennett says. "We believe we can help athletes perform better by addressing those concerns."

The sport psychology department also offers an injury group to afford injured athletes the opportunity to meet with other injured athletes and talk about their recovery process. Injured athletes may also meet individually with the sport psychologists if they do not feel comfortable in the group or cannot make the sessions. On average, the psychologists conduct 20 individual sessions per week and also meet weekly with teams as the need arises.

A new addition to the sport psychology resources is the Dynavision 2000, a unique conditioning and training program designed to increase focus and concentration, improve coordination and visuomotor reactions, and increase peripheral awareness. Virginia Tech is privileged to be one of only a handful of schools with this cutting-edge technology.

The sport psychology office reaches out to athletes who may not have considered going to the counseling service that is offered to all students at Virginia Tech.

"It is a great resource for our coaches and our athletes," Gentry says. "We've improved a lot in areas of strength and conditioning, nutrition and in sport psychology. It's all about becoming a well-rounded athletic program and helping student-athletes. We want to give them all the resources we can, to put them in a position to be successful."

The Virginia Tech volleyball team is one of the teams that trains in the Merryman Center weight room.

The facility, which is also used by the Tech football team, is one of the finest around.

ATLANTIC COAST CONFERENCE

The Tradition

Consistency. It is the mark of true excellence in any endeavor.

However, in today's intercollegiate athletics, competition has become so balanced and so competitive that it is virtually impossible to maintain a high level of consistency.

Yet the Atlantic Coast Conference has defied the odds. Now in its 54th year of competition, the ACC has long enjoyed the reputation as one of the strongest and most competitive intercollegiate conferences in the nation. And that is not mere conjecture, the numbers support it.

Since the league's inception in 1953, ACC schools have captured 100 national championships, including 52 in women's competition and 48 in men's. In addition, NCAA individual titles have gone to ACC student-athletes 130 times in men's competition and 71 times in women's action.

The Championships

The conference will conduct championship competition in 25 sports during the 2006-07 academic year — 12 for men and 13 for women.

The first ACC championship was held in swimming on Feb. 25, 1954. The conference did not conduct championships in cross country, wrestling or tennis during the first year.

The 12 sports for men include football, cross country, soccer, basketball, swimming, indoor and outdoor track, wrestling, baseball, tennis, golf and lacrosse. Fencing, which was started in 1971, was discontinued in 1981.

Women's sports were initiated in 1977 with the first championship meet being held in tennis at Wake Forest University.

Championships for women are currently conducted in cross country, volleyball, field hockey, soccer, basketball, swimming, indoor and outdoor track, tennis, golf, lacrosse, softball and rowing.

A History

The Atlantic Coast Conference was founded on May 8, 1953, at the Sedgefield Inn near Greensboro, N.C., with seven charter members — Clemson, Duke, Maryland, North Carolina, North Carolina State, South Carolina and Wake Forest — drawing up the conference by-laws.

The withdrawal of seven schools from the Southern Conference came early on the morning of May 8, 1953, during the Southern Conference's annual spring meeting. On June 14, 1953, the seven members met in Raleigh, N.C., where a set of bylaws was adopted and the name became officially the Atlantic Coast Conference.

Suggestions from fans for the name of the new conference appeared in the region's newspapers prior to the meeting in Raleigh. Some of the names suggested were: Dixie, Mid South, Mid Atlantic, East Coast, Seaboard, Colonial, Tobacco, Blue-Gray, Piedmont, Southern Seven and the Shoreline.

Duke's Eddie Cameron recommended that the name of the conference be the Atlantic Coast Conference, and the motion was passed unanimously. The meeting concluded with each member institution assessed $200 to pay for conference expenses.

On December 4, 1953, conference officials met again at Sedgefield and officially admitted the University of Virginia as the league's eighth member. The first, and only, withdrawal of a school from the ACC came on June 30, 1971, when the University of South Carolina tendered its resignation.

The ACC operated with seven members until April 3, 1978, when the Georgia Institute of Technology was admitted. The Atlanta school had withdrawn from the Southeastern Conference in January of 1964.

The ACC expanded to nine members on July 1, 1991, with the addition of Florida State University.

The conference expanded to 11 members on July 1, 2004, with the addition of the University of Miami and Virginia Tech. On October 17, 2003, Boston College accepted an invitation to become the league's 12th member starting July 1, 2005.

Just what is a Hokie, anyway?

That's the most often-asked question in Virginia Tech athletics. The answer leads all the way back to 1896 when Virginia Agricultural and Mechanical College changed its name to Virginia Polytechnic Institute. With the change came the necessity for writing a new cheer and a contest for such a purpose was held by the student body. Senior O.M. Stull won first prize for his "Hokie" yell which still is used today. Later, when asked if "Hokie" had any special meaning, Stull explained the word was solely the product of his imagination and was used only as an attention-getter for his yell. It soon became a nickname for all Tech teams and for those people loyal to Tech athletics. The official school colors — Chicago maroon and burnt orange — also were introduced in 1896. They were chosen because they made a "unique combination" not worn elsewhere at the time.

The Hokie Stone Story

Most of the buildings on the beautiful Tech campus are constructed using Hokie Stone. This natural rock is 475-million-year-old dolomite limestone, some of which is mined from a quarry located not far from from Cassell Coliseum.

In constructing the buildings at Tech, a stone mason shapes individual stones, arranges them and cements them together with mortar to create walls of great strength and durability.

An image of Hokie Stone is used on the covers of this guide, as well as the background of each individual page.
